The map shows how far students from Cuba could have traveled to North America. Color everything within the color range red and everything outside that. Look at the map and answer the questions.

1. List a major city on the U.S. East Coast that could have been a target. American
2. List a major city on the U.S. West Coast that could have been a target. NY
3. List a major city on the Great Lakes that could have been a target. NY

Discuss It

Based on the map, why were Americans so worried during the Cuban Missile Crisis?

The Vietnam War

During the 1950s and 1960s, the United States helped another war against Communist forces in Asia—the Vietnam War. Vietnam is a country in Southeast Asia. It was divided into two sections—North Vietnam and South Vietnam. North Vietnam was controlled by Communists, and South Vietnam was controlled by a government friendly to the United States. The communists in South Vietnam wanted to take over South Vietnam.

Combat in Vietnam

The United States decided to help South Vietnam stop the spread of Communism. This was important because many people thought that if South Vietnam became Communist, all of Southeast Asia would soon come under Communist control, too. This was known as the "Domino Theory."

Other nations also feared that support helped one side or the other in the war.

South Vietnam likes		North Vietnam likes
United States	South Korea	Soviet Union
Australia	Thailand	China
New Zealand	Philippines

At first, the United States just provided aid and advice to South Vietnam. However, American aid kept growing. By the mid 1960s, the United States was regular troops rather than just military advisors in Vietnam. Americans were divided over whether the United States should be involved in Vietnam. There were many reasons against the war.

Old Enough to Fight, Not Enough to Vote

Protests about the Vietnam War continued in the offices of the State Department in the U.S. Congress. Protests erupted that if men could be sent to fight in America if 18, they should be able to vote at 18. The government lowered the voting age from 21 to 18.
