Geograph Paper1 November 2014:

Spatial Cultures Sam Griffiths, Alexander von Lünen, 2016-06-10 What is the relationship between how cities work and what cities mean Spatial Cultures Towards a New Social Morphology of Cities Past and Present announces an innovative research agenda for urban studies in which themes and methods from urban history social theory and built environment research are brought into dialogue across disciplinary and chronological boundaries The collection confronts the recurrent epistemological impasse that arises between research focussing on the description of material built environments and that which is concerned primarily with the people who inhabit govern and write about cities past and present A reluctance to engage substantively with this issue has been detrimental to scholarly efforts to understand the urban built environment as a meaningful agent of human social experience Drawing on a wide range of historical and contemporary urban case studies as well as a selection of theoretical and methodological reflections the contributions to this volume seek to historically geographically and architecturally contextualize diverse spatial practices including movement encounter play procession and neighbourhood The aim is to challenge their tacit treatment as universal categories in much writing on cities and to propose alternative research possibilities with implications as much for urban design thinking as for history and the social sciences

Climate Change, Migration and Conflict in Bangladesh Md Rafiqul Islam, 2023-08-18 This book explores the relationship between climate change induced migration and conflict in Bangladesh one of the most ecologically fragile countries in the world It explores why people migrate from their original place of land and how the migration of people with a different background to an ethnically distinctive region due to environmental changes can become a source of conflict and violence between the host peoples and migrants The volume focuses on the Chittagong Hill Tracts CHT which has experienced long standing ethnopolitical conflict due to the settlement and migration of the Bengali people from the plain land of Bangladesh This settlement and migration were mainly caused climatic events such as floods cyclones sealevel rise and disasters It traces the history of the ethnic conflict in the region and presents key findings from the field as well as the dynamics of everyday politics in the region This volume also highlights how internally climate displaced people generate violence and civil strife in the major urban cities through their settlements in slums The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of environmental studies human geography migration and diaspora studies public policy social anthropology and South Asian studies

London the Promised Land Revisited Anne J. Kershen, 2016-03-09 Some two decades since the publication of London the Promised Land which charted and investigated the successes and failures of the migrant experience in London over a period of three hundred years this book re examines the migrant landscape in London While remaining a beacon for immigrants the migrant face of the city has changed rapidly and dramatically from one which was heavily populated by semi skilled and unskilled post colonial incomers to one which now embraces the EU Accession Countries refugees from the Middle East and Africa oligarchs from Russia the new wealthy from China economic migrants from Latin America and Ireland and still post colonial immigrants at the same time witnessing the exodus home of incomers or their descendants who now see opportunities where there were none before The contributors all leading academics and practitioners in their diverse fields examine changes to the migrant landscape of contemporary London at the micro meso and macro levels London the Promised Land Revisited thus explores a range of experiences in the capital including the presence and treatment of illness amongst migrants the phenomenon of migrant invisibility and asylum the migrant marketplace and ethnic clustering and interaction with local and national government across a variety of migrant groups both new and old As such this book will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interest in migration migrant experiences and the contemporary global city

Origination Andy Pike, 2015-06-02 Origination The Geographies of Brands and Branding offers innovative theoretical and conceptual frameworks relating to the ways that actors create meaning and value in commodity brands and branding through processes of geographical association Provides innovative conceptualization and theorization to facilitate an understanding of the geographical dimensions of brands and branding Challenges current interpretations of brands as vehicles of homogenization in globalization Establishes the theoretical and conceptual foundations of a more geographically sensitive approach through rigorous empirical examination of the under researched geographical differentiation of commodity brands and branding Presents innovative new research and analysis of the socio spatial biographies of the Newcastle Brown Ale Burberry and Apple brands Forges strong new connections between political and cultural economy approaches within geography Provides a distinctive and incisive conceptual and theoretical framework capable of engaging other branded commodities and their branding in other times and places

Understanding Urban Cycling Justin Spinney, 2020-10-28 Academic interest in cycling has burgeoned in recent years with significant literature relating to the health and environmental benefits of cycling the necessity for cycle specific infrastructure and the embodied experiences of cycling Based upon primary research in a variety of contexts such as London Shanghai and Taipei this book demonstrates that recent developments in urban cycling policy and practice are closely linked to broader processes of capital accumulation It argues that cycling is increasingly caught up in discourses around smart cities that emphasise technological solutions to environmental problems and neoliberal ideas on individual responsibility and bio political conduct which only results in solutions that prioritise those who are already mobile Accordingly the central argument of the book is not that the popularisation of cycling is inherently bad but that the manner in which cycling is being popularised gives cause for social and environmental concern Ultimately the book argues that cycling has now become a vehicle for sustaining pro growth agendas rather than subverting them or shifting to sustainable no growth de growth and less technologically driven visions of modernity This book makes an innovative contribution to the fields of Cycling Studies Mobilities and Transport and will be of interest to students and academics working in Human Geography Transport Studies Urban Studies Urban Planning Public Policy Sociology and Sustainability

Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability Chew-Hung

Chang, Gillian Kidman, Andy Wi, 2019-09-25 In a fast changing globalising world the teaching and implementation of a curriculum for Education for Sustainability EfS has been a challenge for many teachers Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability highlights the issues and challenges educators and academics face in implementing EfS and gives examples of what an EfS curriculum may look like and how some institutions translate the theory into practice Organised into three parts the volume looks at the who EfS for whom the what EfS curriculum and the how translating from theory to practice The concluding chapter provides ideas and directions on where the world can proceed regarding sustainability education and how it can help in the teaching and learning of sustainability Considering social issues such as poverty education health culture and the use of natural resources this book proposes a different path towards Education for Sustainability Providing concrete data on the realisation of sustainable development Issues in Teaching and Learning of Education for Sustainability will be of interest to geographers geography educators and professionals concerned with Education for Sustainability Ageing in Cities OECD, 2015-04-30 This book examines trends in ageing societies and urban development before assessing the impact of ageing populations on urban areas and strategies for policy and governance It includes 9 case studies Routledge Handbook of National and Regional Ocean Policies Biliana Cicin-Sain, David Vanderzwaag, Miriam C. Balgos, 2015-05-15 This comprehensive handbook prepared by leading ocean policy academics and practitioners from around the world presents in depth analyses of the experiences of fifteen developed and developing nations and four key regions of the world that have taken concrete steps toward cross cutting and integrated national and regional ocean policy All chapters follow a common framework for policy analysis While most coastal nations of the world already have a variety of sectoral policies in place to manage different uses of the ocean such as shipping fishing oil and gas development in the last two decades the coastal nations covered in the book have undertaken concerted efforts to articulate and implement an integrated ecosystem based vision for the governance of ocean areas under their jurisdiction This includes goals and procedures to harmonize existing uses and laws to foster sustainable development of ocean areas to protect biodiversity and vulnerable resources and ecosystems and to coordinate the actions of the many government agencies that are typically involved in oceans affairs The book highlights the serious conflicts of use in most national ocean zones and the varying attempts by nations to follow the prescriptions emanating from the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention and the outcomes of the 1992 2002 and 2012 sustainable development summits The interrelationship among uses and processes in the coast and ocean requires that ocean governance be integrated precautionary and anticipatory Overall the book provides a definitive state of the art review and analysis of national and regional ocean policies around the world Global Governance and India's North-East Ranabir Samaddar, Anita Sengupta, 2019-06-04 This book maps the convergence of governance and connectivity within Asia established through the spatial dynamics of trade capital conflict borders and mobility It situates Indian trade and governance policies within a broader Asian and global context Focussing on India s

North East in particular on India's Look and Act East Policy the volume underscores how logistical governance in the region can bring economic and political transformations It explores the projected development of the North East into a gateway of transformative cultural interaction among people just as the Silk Road became a conduit for Buddhism to travel along with musical instruments and tea Comprehensive and topical this book will be useful for scholars and researchers of political studies international relations governance studies development studies international trade and economics and for think tanks working on South and Southeast Asia

The Shadow of Kenyan Democracy Dominic Burbidge, 2016-03-09 Why has democracy failed to reduce corruption in Kenya Framing the challenge in game theoretical terms Dominic Burbidge examines how mutual expectations between citizens dictate the success or failure of political reforms Since 1992 Kenya has conducted multiparty elections with the hope of promoting accountability and transparency in government This is being undermined by ongoing corruption and an increasingly centralised state response to terrorism Providing a nuanced assessment of democracy's difficult road in Kenya Burbidge discusses the independent role being played by widespread social expectations of corruption Through tracking average views of the average person it is possible to identify a threshold beyond which society suffers mutually reinforcing negative social expectations This trend is the shadow of Kenyan democracy and must be treated as a policy challenge on its own terms before institutional reforms will be successful
