William Harris,2003-05-22 Finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in History Co winner of the James A Rawley Prize from the Organization of American Historians Winner of the Theodore Saloutos Memorial Book Prize from the Agricultural History Society Deep Souths tells the stories of three southern regions from Reconstruction to World War II the Mississippi Yazoo Delta the eastern Piedmont of Georgia and the Georgia Sea Islands and Atlantic coast Though these regions initially shared the histories and populations we associate with the idea of a Deep South all had economies based on slave plantation labor in 1860 their histories diverged sharply during the three generations after Reconstruction With research gathered from oral histories census reports and a wide variety of other sources Harris traces these regional changes in cumulative stories of individuals across the social spectrum Deep Souths presents a comparative and ground level view of history that challenges the idea that the lower South was either uniform or static in the era of segregation By the end of the New Deal era changes in these regions had prepared the way for the civil rights movement and the end of segregation Lockwood's Directory of the Paper and Allied Trades ,1922 Scorpions Noah Feldman,2011-01-26 A history of the careers and constitutional visions of four U S Supreme Court Justices appointed by Franklin Roosevelt A tiny ebullient Jew who started as America s leading liberal and ended as its most famous judicial conservative A Klansman who became an absolutist advocate of free speech and civil rights A backcountry lawyer who started off trying cases about cows and went on to conduct the most important international trial ever A self invented tall tale Westerner who narrowly missed the presidency but expanded individual freedom beyond what anyone before had dreamed Four more different men could hardly be imagined Yet they had certain things in common Each was a self made man who came from humble beginnings on the edge of poverty Each had driving ambition and a will to succeed Each was in his own way a genius Hugo Black William O Douglas Felix Frankfurter and Robert Jackson began as close allies and friends of FDR But the quest to shape a new Constitution led them to competition and sometimes outright warfare Scorpions tells the story of these four great justices their relationship with Roosevelt with each other and with the turbulent world of the Great Depression World War II and the Cold War It also serves as a history of the modern Constitution itself Praise for Scorpions Smart and engaging New York Times Book Review Full of high stakes intellectual drama Washington Post A first rate work of narrative history that succeeds in bringing the intellectual and political battles of the post Roosevelt Court vividly to life Publishers Weekly The Powers that Punish Charles Bright,2010-05-18 In a pathbreaking study of a major state prison Michigan s Jackson State Penitentiary during the middle years of this century Charles Bright addresses several aspects of the history and theory of punishment The study is an institutional history of an American penitentiary concerned with how a carceral regime was organized and maintained how prisoners were treated and involved in the creation of a regime of order and how penal practices were explained and defended in public In addition it is a meditation upon punishment in modern society and a critical engagement with prevailing theories of punishment coming out of liberal Marxist and post structuralist traditions Deploying theory critically in a historic narrative it applies new relational theories of power to political institutions and practices Finally in studying the history of the Jackson prison Bright provides a rich account full of villains and a few heroes of state politics in Michigan during a period of rapid transition between the 1920s to the 1950s The book will be of direct relevance to criminologists and scholars of punishment and to historians concerned with the history of punishment and prisons in the United States It will also be useful to political scientists and historians concerned with exploring new approaches to the study of power and with the transformation of state politics in the 1930s and 1940s Finally Bright tells a story which will fascinate students of modern Michigan history Charles Bright is a historian and Lecturer at the Residential

Sick and Tired of Being Sick and Tired Susan L. Smith, 2010-08-03 Sick and Tired moves beyond the depiction of African Americans as mere recipients of aid or as victims of neglect and highlights the ways black health activists created public health programs and influenced public policy at every opportunity Smith also sheds new light on the infamous Tuskegee syphilis experiment by situating it within the context of black public health activity reminding us that public health work had oppressive as well as progressive consequences

Water and American Government Donald J. Pisani, 2002-12-31 Donald Pisani's history of perhaps the boldest economic and social program ever undertaken in the United States to reclaim and cultivate vast areas of previously unusable land across the country shows in fascinating detail how ambitious government programs fall prey to the power of local interest groups and the federal system of governance itself What began as the underwriting of a variety of projects to create family farms and farming communities had become by the 1930s a massive public works and regional development program with an emphasis on the urban as much as on the rural West
