Plante, Lis M. Mau, 2018-04-17 This cutting edge reader demonstrates the multiple ways in which the universe of gender is socially, culturally, and historically constructed. The selections focus on gender itself, how gender operates, socioculturally exists, functions, and is presented in micro and macro interactions. In order to avoid balkanization, the authors examine the various ways in which culture intersects with individuals to produce the range of presentations of self that we call gender, from people born male who become adult men to lesbian women to transmen and everyone else on the diverse gender spectrum. Reforming Education and Challenging Inequalities in Southern Contexts Pauline Rose, Madeleine Arnot, Roger Jeffery, Nidhi Singal, 2021-03-24 This book offers in depth analyses of how education interacts with social inequality in Southern contexts. Drawing on a range of disciplinary frameworks, it presents new analyses of existing knowledge and new empirical data which define the challenges and possibilities of successful educational reform. It is a tribute to the work of the late Christopher Colclough who, as a leading figure in education and international development, played a key role in the global fight for education for all children. The book critically engages with international evidence of educational access, retention, and outcomes, offering new understandings of how social inequalities currently facilitate, mediate, or restrict educational opportunities. It exposes the continuing influence of wealth and regional inequalities and caste and gendered social structures. Researchers in Ethiopia, Ghana, India, Pakistan, and Uganda highlight how the aspirations of families living in poverty remain unfilled by poor quality education and low economic opportunities, and how schools and teachers currently address issues of gender, disability, and diversity. The book highlights a range of new priorities for research and identifies some necessary strategies for education reform, policy approaches, and school practice if educational equality for all children is to be achieved. The book will be of great interest to researchers, scholars, educational practitioners, and policy makers in the fields of economics, politics, and sociology of education, international education, poverty research, and international development.
