Factors Affecting Relationships:

Factors Influencing Business Relationships in Agri-food Chains Nikolai Reynolds, 2010 the sustainability of supply chain relationships among farmers processors and retailers

Economic and Social Factors Affecting the Health of Older Adults Colette Joy Browning, Katherine Henrietta Leith, Shane Andrew Thomas, 2023-12-11 In 2020 over 1 billion of the world's population were over the age of 60 years old and it is expected to double by 2050 according to WHO Due to the growing population of older adults there is a focus on healthy aging that will benefit the individuals and the wider communities as older adults will be able to support family members and partake in paid or voluntary work for a longer period of time Currently a large number of older adults are unable to work increasing the likelihood of economic instability with fewer streams of income Economic instability has been proven to have health impacts including declining mental wellbeing malnutrition and the inability to afford prescribed medications Social isolation proves to be another important factor in the overall health of older adults The CDC reports that poor social interactions have been linked to a higher risk of developing multiple serious medical conditions

Factors Affecting Physician Professional Satisfaction and Their Implications for Patient Care, Health Systems, and Health Policy

Mark W. Friedberg, Peggy G. Chen, Kristin R. Van Busum, Frances M. Aunon, Chau Pham, John P. Caloyeras, Soeren Mattke, Emma Pitchforth, Denise D. Quigley, Robert H. Brook, F. Jay Crosson, Michael Tutty, 2013-10-09 The American Medical Association asked RAND Health to characterize the factors that affect physician professional satisfaction RAND researchers sought to identify high priority determinants of professional satisfaction by gathering data from 30 physician practices in six states using a combination of surveys and semistructured interviews This report presents the results of the subsequent analysis

Relationships in the Organization of Knowledge A. Bean, R. Green, 2013-04-17 Relationships abound in the library and information science LIS world Those relationships may be social in nature as for instance when we deal with human relationships among library personnel or relationships i e public relations between an information center and its clientele The relationships may be educational as for example when we examine the relationship between the curriculum of an accredited school and the needs of the work force it is preparing students to join Or the relationships may be economic as when we investigate the relationship between the cost of journals and the frequency with which they are cited Many of the relationships of concern to us reflect phenomena entirely internal to the field the relationship between manuscript collections archives and special collections the relationship between end user search behavior and the effectiveness of searches the relationship between access to and use of information resources the relationship between recall and precision the relationship between various bibliometric laws etc The list of such relationships could go on and on The relationships addressed in this volume are restricted to those involved in the organization of recorded knowledge which tend to have a conceptual or semantic basis although statistical means are sometimes used in their discovery

Air Pollution as a Risk Factor Affecting Human Health and Economic Costs

Chris G. Tzanis,Lara Aleluia Reis,Artur Badyda,Barbara Piekarska ,Ghulam Mujtaba Kayani,Aneta Iwona Oniszczyk-Jastrzabek ,Ernest Czermanski,2024-05-16 According to the World Health Organization air pollution is one of the most important environmental risk to health influencing the burden of disease such as stroke heart disease lung cancer but also chronic and acute respiratory diseases including bronchial asthma For years WHO has also been alarming about the enormous number of premature deaths that are attributed each year to exposure to air pollution It is estimated that air pollution is responsible for over 7 million human lives of which over 4 million are attributed to the exposure to ambient outdoor air pollutants Therefore it is a leading factor determining the global scale of morbidity and mortality not only due to serious diseases of the cardiovascular and respiratory systems or neoplastic diseases but also significantly affects the reduced quality of life usually associated with disability caused by chronic disease Factors Affecting Performance and Recovery in Team Sports: A Multidimensional Perspective Athos Trecroci,Damiano Formenti,Jason Moran,Dino Pedreschi,Alessio Rossi,2022-04-20 Urban and Rural America: Policies for Future Growth United States. Leadership Rosa Antonia Carrillo,2019-07-11 At the core of The Relationship Factor in Safety Leadership are eight beliefs about human nature that are common to leaders who successfully communicate that safety is important while meeting business results Using stories and business language the book explains how to create and recover important stakeholder relationships by setting priorities and taking action based on these beliefs The beliefs are based on the author s 25 years of experience supporting operational and safety leaders with successful and unsuccessful change efforts in pharmaceutical nuclear mining manufacturing and power generation The author also offers compelling evidence from many social and scientific disciplines that support the conclusion that satisfying our need for relationship is a major motivator The Five Orientations Model offers a perspective on solving complex problems when confronted with multiple demands The book provides managers and supervisors with the motivation to build relationships and points to the conditions needed for success It also describes a process to take united action but retain the flexibility to change course as necessary The book is written for managers and leaders at all levels concerned with occupational health and safety and wishing to learn how to leverage relationships to achieve higher employee engagement and performance

Personal Relationships and Personal Networks Malcolm R. Parks,2017-09-25 The effort to understand personal relationships has traditionally focused on the individual characteristics of participants Personal Relationships and Personal Networks takes this analysis a step further focusing on research linking participants feelings and actions within a given personal relationship to the larger social context surrounding it Author Malcolm R Parks expands on the idea that the initiation development maintenance and dissolution of relationships are inextricably connected to each participant s social network a perspective that allows for a better appreciation of our connection to the world and a greater understanding our significant power as social actors This book offers a new way to consider basic notions about how relationships form such as how particular people meet and how relationships are started Among many findings the volume demonstrates that individuals in relationships feel closer and generally more connected when they also have a greater amount of contact with the members of each other s personal networks and when they believe that network members support their relationship Additional topics discussed include how this social context model is applicable to different types of relationships how participants interact with network members how social networks are involved in the deterioration of personal relationships and what drives change in relationships Students researchers and professionals in a wide variety of disciplines such as communication psychology sociology anthropology family studies clinical psychology public health nursing education and social work will find this book useful as will anyone seeking to better understand their own personal relationships
