

FRANKENSTEIN* Study Guide

Homework: Please write your answers on separate paper.

Letters 1-4

1. Who is writing Letter 1 (and all the letters)?

Robert Walton

2. To whom is he writing? What is their relationship?

Mrs. Saville, his sister

3. Where is Robert Walton when he writes Letter 1? Why is he there? What are his plans?

St. Petersburg, Russia. He is hiring a crew for his ship. He intends to sail to the North Pole and discover magnetism.

4. What does Robert Walton tell us about himself?

He is passionately committed to discovery and adventure. He wishes he had a friend with the same sensibilities and he says he is self-taught.

5. Where is Walton now? What do you think of Walton's question "What can stop the determined heart and resolved will of man"?

Walton is out to sea, sailing north. The quotation establishes the Romantic idea of the power of emotion over reason.

6. How much time has elapsed between Letter 3 and Letter 4? What "strange accident" has happened to the sailors?

One month has lapsed. The accident is the ship is trapped in ice and fog.

7. Why does the man picked up by the ship say he is there? What shape is he in?

The man says he is "seek[ing] one who fled from me" (11) and he asks which direction the ship is sailing. He is near death, weak and emaciated.

8. What sort of person does he seem to be? How does Walton respond to this man?

The man remains silent and this creates a sense of mystery around him. Walton finds the man eloquent, educated and refined.

Studying Virtual Math Teams Gerry Stahl, 2010-05-03

Studying Virtual Math Teams centers on detailed empirical studies of how students in small online groups make sense of math issues and how they solve problems by making meaning together. These studies are woven together with materials that describe the online environment and pedagogical orientation as well as reflections on the theoretical implications of the findings in the studies. The nature of group cognition and shared meaning making in collaborative learning is a foundational research issue in CSCL. More generally, the theme of sense making is a central topic in information science. While many authors allude to these topics, few have provided this kind of detailed analysis of the mechanisms of intersubjective meaning making. This book presents a coherent research agenda that has been pursued by the author and his research group. The book opens with descriptions of the project and its methodology as well as situating this research in the past and present context of the CSCL research field. The core research team then presents five concrete analyses of group interactions in different phases of the Virtual Math Teams research project. These chapters are followed by several studies by international collaborators discussing the group discourse, the software affordances, and alternative representations of the interaction, all using data from the VMT project. The concluding chapters address implications for the theory of group cognition and for the methodology of the learning sciences. In addition to substantial introductory and concluding chapters, this important new book includes analyses based upon the author's previous research, thereby providing smooth continuity and an engaging flow that follows the progression of the research. The VMT project has dual goals: a) to provide a source of experience and data for practical and theoretical explorations of group knowledge building, and b) to develop an effective online environment and educational service for collaborative learning of mathematics. Studying Virtual Math Teams reflects these twin orientations, reviewing the intertwined aims and development of a rigorous science of small group cognition and a Web 2.0 educational math service. It documents the kinds of interactional methods that small groups use to explore math issues and provides a glimpse into the potential of online interaction to promote productive math discourse.

The Code Breaker Walter Isaacson, 2021-03-09

A Best Book of 2021 by Bloomberg BusinessWeek, Time, and The Washington Post. The bestselling author of Leonardo da Vinci and Steve Jobs returns with a compelling The Washington Post account of how Nobel Prize winner Jennifer Doudna and her colleagues launched a revolution that will allow us to cure diseases, fend off viruses, and have healthier babies. When Jennifer Doudna was in sixth grade, she came home one day to find that her dad had left a paperback titled The Double Helix on her bed. She put it aside, thinking it was one of those detective tales she loved. When she read it on a rainy Saturday, she discovered she was right in a way As she sped through the pages she became enthralled by the intense drama behind the competition to discover the code of life Even though her high school counselor told her girls didn t become scientists she decided she would Driven by a passion to understand how nature works and to turn discoveries into inventions she would help to make what the book s author James Watson told her was the most important biological advance since his codiscovery of the structure of DNA She and her collaborators turned a curiosity of nature into an invention that will transform the human race an easy to use tool that can edit DNA Known as CRISPR it opened a brave new world of medical miracles and moral questions The development of CRISPR and the race to create vaccines for coronavirus will hasten our transition to the next great innovation revolution The past half century has been a digital age based on the microchip computer and internet Now we are entering a life science revolution Children who study digital coding will be joined by those who study genetic code Should we use our new evolution hacking powers to make us less susceptible to viruses What a wonderful boon that would be And what about preventing depression Hmmm Should we allow parents if they can afford it to enhance the height or muscles or IQ of their kids After helping to discover CRISPR Doudna became a leader in wrestling with these moral issues and with her collaborator Emmanuelle Charpentier won the Nobel Prize in 2020 Her story is an enthralling detective story Oprah Daily that involves the most profound wonders of nature from the origins of life to the future of our species
