Effective Staff Training in Social Care Jan Horwath, Tony Morrison, 2005-07-18 Effective Staff Training in Social Care provides a theoretical framework for training and professional development focusing on group learning in a social care context. It tackles the tensions and dilemmas of those engaged in training amidst a climate of change and a mixed economy of welfare and examines how these influence both the trainer and the learner. Strategies for transferring learning to the workplace and models of evaluation are analysed in depth. Effective Staff Training in Social Care enables the reader to reflect, analyse and develop their own training practice. This is essential reading for educators, trainers and managers working in social care settings. Public Health Service Publication, 1950 Community Services Directory, Sacramento, 1984

Reviewing Care Management for Older People Judith E. Phillips, Bridget Penhale, 1996. This book discusses the development and implementation of several models of care management. Drawing together research to highlight the successes and the difficulties of translating the principles of care management into practice, it examines this subject with particular reference to empowerment, needs-led assessment and multi-disciplinary work. Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1992. First multi-year cumulation covers six years 1965-70. An Introduction to Community and Primary Health Care Diana Guzys, Rhonda Brown, Elizabeth Halcomb, Dean Whitehead, 2020-12-09. An Introduction to Community and Primary Health Care introduces students to the theory, skills and professional roles in community settings.

Catalog of Mental Health Pamphlets and Reprints Available for Distribution, 1949 National Institute of Mental Health (U.S.), 1949. Catalog, 1951. Community Care and Older People Christina R. Victor, 1997. Providing a concise review of the demographic context underpinning the development of community care for older people and a critical review of community care in post-war Britain, this textbook discusses the current data and research regarding service provision and the costs and effectiveness of such services. The author integrates available data about the use of different types of service and considers the implications of the 1993 policy and demographic change on the provision of community care in the future, comparing data relating to Britain with that of other developed countries, especially in Europe. Public Health Service Bibliography Series, 1951.

Concepts in community care for people with a learning difficulty Patricia Brigden, Margaret Todd, 1993-11-11. This book provides all those concerned with the delivery of care and services to people with a learning difficulty with an up-to-date overview of recent development in the area. Three major themes are explored: empowering individuals, change management and working with clients. Within this framework, the authors examine the historical context of current service delivery and the influences from Europe and America on care practice. Practical guidelines are incorporated for staff who might wish to implement some of the ideas within the chapters. Community Care in Perspective J. Welshman, J. Walmsley, 2006-10-31. This cohesive collection fills a major gap in medical and social history by offering a detailed account of community provision for so-called vulnerable adults in the UK from 1948-2005. It examines key issues such as charity versus rights the role of the market in care provision and the changing construction of social categories
