The Spiritual Journals of Warren Felt Evans Warren Felt Evans, 2016-12-19 Warren Felt Evans 1817 1889 converted to Methodism while at Dartmouth College became a minister and spent his Methodist years as a spiritual seeker His two extant journals edited and annotated by Catherine L Albanese appear in print for the first time and reveal the inner journey of a leading American spiritual pilgrim at a critical period in his religious search A voracious reader he recorded accounts of intense religious experience in his journals He moved from the Oberlin perfectionism he embraced early on through the French quietism of Madame J Guyon and Archbishop F nelon then into Swedenborgianism spiritualism and mind cure with distinct theosophical overtones His carefully documented journey is suggestive of the similar journeys of the religious seekers who made their way into the burgeoning metaphysical movement at the end of the 19th century and may shed light too on today's spirituality Conducting Research in Online and Blended Learning Environments Charles D. Kissed by a Fox Priscilla Stuckey, 2012-09-01 Drawing inspiration from sources as varied as ancient philosophers and contemporary biologists Kissed by a Fox challenges readers to enact a different story of nature one in which people and place are not separate where other creatures respond to human need and where humans and all others together create the world Dissatisfaction with nature flows throughout Western civilization as deep as its blood as abiding as its bones Convinced to the marrow that something is deeply wrong with nature the Western world tries to remake it into something better For Priscilla Stuckey this is a fundamental and heartbreaking misconception that nature can be fixed exploited or simply ignored Modern societies try to bend nature to human will instead of engaging in give and take with a living breathing land community Using her personal experiences as the cornerstone Stuckey explores the depth of relationship possible with the birch tree in our backyard the nearby urban creek the dog who settles on our bed each night With the eloquence of the great nature writers before her Stuckey encourages us to open ourselves to the unlimited possibilities of a truly connected life

The Behavior of Prices Frederick Cecil Mills, 1927 Evolutionary Social Psychology Jeffery A. Simpson, Douglas T. Kenrick, 2014-02-25 What a pity it would have been if biologists had refused to accept Darwin's theory of natural selection which has been essential in helping biologists understand a wide range of phenomena in many animal species These days to study any animal species while refusing to consider the evolved adaptive significance of their behavior would be considered pure folly unless of course the species is homo sapiens Graduate students training to study this particular primate species may never take a single course in evolutionary theory although they may take two undergraduate and up to four graduate courses in statistics These methodologically sophisticated students then embark on a career studying human aggression cooperation mating behavior family relationships or altruism with little or no understanding of the general evolutionary forces and principles that shaped the behaviors they are investigating This book hopes to redress that wrong It is one of the first to apply evolutionary theories to mainstream problems in personality and social psychology that are relevant to a wide range of important social phenomena many of which have been shaped and molded by natural selection during the course of human evolution These phenomena include selective biases that people have concerning how and why a variety of activities occur For example information exchanged during social encounters is initially perceived and interpreted people are romantically attracted to some potential mates but not others people often guard protect and work hard at maintaining their closest relationships people form shifting and highly complicated coalitions with kin and close friends and people terminate close long standing relationships Evolutionary Social Psychology begins to disentangle the complex interwoven patterns of interaction that define our social lives and relationships

Malbon, 2020-12-14 In 21st century America personhood is under daily assault sometimes with dire consequences Scientist ethicist and ordained minister Craig C Malbon encourages the reader to consider such assaults on personhood endured by victims of abortion ageism Alzheimer s disease drug addiction mental and physical disabilities gender gender orientation racism sexual preference identity politics and our will to power over the other In exploring personhood status Malbon poses difficult questions for us Is personhood assigned as all or nothing or is it a sliding scale based upon criteria arbitrarily aimed at our vulnerabilities Does the voiceless embryo and fetus have advocates who can speak to the moral question of abortion Is the personhood of an economically insecure pregnant woman degraded to the point where lack of access to early termination of pregnancy results in coercive childbearing Does being a member of the LGBTQI community target one for assaults on personhood to the extreme of being killed In delving into the biology and psychology of assaults of self upon the other Malbon sees powerful linkages of everyday assaults on personhood to darker profound original sins that are foundational to the rise of the American empire i e assaults on the indigenous Native Americans and assaults derivative to the institution of slavery upon Africans African Americans and their descendants
