Making Music Modern Carol J. Oja, 2000-11-16

New York City witnessed a dazzling burst of creativity in the 1920s In this pathbreaking study Carol J Oja explores this artistic renaissance from the perspective of composers of classical and modern music who along with writers painters and jazz musicians were at the heart of early modernism in America She also illustrates how the aesthetic attitudes and institutional structures from the 1920s left a deep imprint on the arts over the 20th century Aaron Copland George Gershwin Ruth Crawford Seeger Virgil Thomson William Grant Still Edgar Var se Henry Cowell Leo Ornstein Marion Bauer George Antheil these were the leaders of a talented new generation of American composers whose efforts made New York City the center of new music in the country They founded composer societies such as the International Composers Guild the League of Composers the Pan American Association and the Copland Sessions Concerts to promote the performance of their music and they nimbly negotiated cultural boundaries aiming for recognition in Western Europe as much as at home They showed exceptional skill at marketing their work Drawing on extensive archival material including interviews correspondence popular periodicals and little known music manuscripts Oja provides a new perspective on the period and a compelling collective portrait of the figures puncturing many longstanding myths American composers active in New York during the 1920s are explored in relation to the Machine Age and American Dada the impact of spirituality on American dissonance the crucial behind the scenes role of women as patrons and promoters of modernist music cross currents between jazz and concert music the critical reception of modernist music especially in the writings of Carl Van Vechten and Paul Rosenfeld and the international impulse behind neoclassicism The book also examines the persistent biases of the time particularly anti Semitism gender stereotyping and longstanding racial attitudes

Chinese Television and National Identity Construction Lauren Gorfinkel, 2017-11-03

This book examines music entertainment programmes on China Central Television China's only national level television network as well as on nationally available provincial channels exploring how such programmes project a nuanced image of China's identity and position in the world It shows how the images presented primarily to domestic audiences are in step with China's party state nationalism and at the same time flexible and open to change as China's circumstances change The book contextualises identity construction in the media by examining the development of television in China and the political struggles between provincial and national television stations as well as by foregrounding the historical and contemporary role of musical culture in China's nation building project It discusses the portrayal of the majority Han Chinese and of ethnic minorities and their music which the author argues are shown as fitting with the party state rhetoric of a unitary multi ethnic state It also outlines how the

Chinese of Greater China Hong Kong Taiwan Macao and the overseas Chinese are incorporated into a mainland centred Chinese identity In addition it shows how the performances of foreign personalities on the Chinese television stage emphasise foreigners attraction to China the uniqueness of the Chinese nation and Chinese civilisation and the revitalised role of China in the world Overall the book demonstrates how the variations of Chinese identity fit with prevailing political ideologies in China and with the emerging theme of a China centred world Cross-Cultural Online Learning in Higher Education and Corporate Training Keengwe, Jared,2014-01-31 This book brings together researchers who study and professionals who design and deliver online training across cultures in both higher education and corporate training settings to share paradigms perspectives insights best practices challenges and best practices Provided by publisher Research in Education ,1973-12 Online Course Management: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources,2018-03-02 The rapid growth in online and virtual learning opportunities has created culturally diverse classes and corporate training sessions Instruction for these learning opportunities must adjust to meet participant needs Online Course Management Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications is a comprehensive reference source for the latest scholarly material on the trends techniques and management of online and distance learning environments and examines the benefits and challenges of these developments Highlighting a range of pertinent topics such as blended learning social presence and educational online games this multi volume book is ideally designed for administrators developers instructors staff technical support and students actively involved in teaching in online learning environments The Illustrated Carpenter and Builder ,1880 Pliny's Praise Paul Roche,2011-05-26 Pliny s Panegyricus AD 100 survives as a unique example of senatorial rhetoric from the early Roman Empire It offers an eyewitness account of the last years of Domitian s principate the reign of Nerva and Trajan s early years and it communicates a detailed senatorial view on the behaviour expected of an emperor It is an important document in the development of the ideals of imperial leadership but it also contributes greatly to our understanding of imperial political culture more generally This volume the first ever devoted to the Panegyricus contains expert studies of its key historical and rhetorical contexts as well as important critical approaches to the published version of the speech and its influence in antiquity It offers scholars of Roman history literature and rhetoric an up to date overview of key approaches to the speech and students and interested readers an authoritative introduction to this vital and under appreciated speech The ETS Test Collection Catalog Educational Testing Service,1987-12 Richard Neutra and the Making of the Lovell Health House, 1925-35 Edward Dimendberg,2025-09-02 This absorbing volume reveals the impact of the Lovell Health House from its inspiration through its construction to its impact This book tells the story of the Lovell Health House designed and built by Austrian American architect Richard Neutra 1892 1970 Perched on a steep hillside with panoramic views of Los Angeles the home pioneered the use of concrete and steel radically advanced the ideals of hygienic carefree and open air living and explored new relationships between space structure the natural world and physical and psychological well being It was widely documented and written about in leading architectural journals when it was erected and these publications elevated the house to the status of an icon in the history of modernism and an essential work of the international modern movement It also helped to launch the global career of one of the central figures of twentieth century architecture The book is framed with an introduction by Edward Dimendberg and includes new texts by Crosby Doe and Thomas Hines At the heart of this project are six portfolios on the background design making circulation reception and resonance of this seminal residence by curator and archivist Nicholas Olsberg Featuring historical photography by Willard Morgan and contemporary photography by Grant Mumford this volume will help bring Neutra's masterpiece to an entirely new audience Victorian Science in Context Bernard Lightman, 2008-07-31 Victorians were fascinated by the flood of strange new worlds that science was opening to them Exotic plants and animals poured into London from all corners of the Empire while revolutionary theories such as the radical idea that humans might be descended from apes drew crowds to heated debates Men and women of all social classes avidly collected scientific specimens for display in their homes and devoured literature about science and its practitioners Victorian Science in Context captures the essence of this fascination charting the many ways in which science influenced and was influenced by the larger Victorian culture Contributions from leading scholars in history literature and the history of science explore questions such as What did science mean to the Victorians For whom was Victorian science written What ideological messages did it convey The contributors show how practical concerns interacted with contextual issues to mold Victorian science which in turn shaped much of the relationship between modern science and culture The Building News and Engineering Journal, 1873 Children's Magazine Guide, 1994 Boats and Boating in the Adirondacks Hallie E. Bond, 1998-08-01 Adirondack history is a tale written on the water In the Adirondacks people have traveled conducted warfare hunted and fished gone to church proposed marriage and driven logs in on from or by water Without boats small and large Adirondack history social recreational commercial and environmental would be an affair entirely different from what we have come to know In this lavishly illustrated account Hallie E Bond presents a history of these boats canoes sailboats power launches outboards and the indigenous guideboat that figure prominently in the overall history of the Adirondacks The pre contact Indians paddled dugout and bark canoes in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries these craft were joined by skiffs and bateaux Between 1820 and World War II a distinctive tradition of boat building developed culminating in the famous Adirondack guideboat As the nineteenth century progressed a variety of small fresh water musclepowered boats was produced in the Adirondacks an assemblage matched by only a few places in the country There were the canoes and the men that made them famous John Henry Rushton and Nessmuk and the guideboats and their builders H Dwight Grant and Willard Hanmer In the early twentieth century the development of the internal combustion engine irrevocably changed not only boat use and design but life and leisure in the Adirondacks Bond skillfully captures the whole panorama of boats and boating in the Adirondacks from early dugouts and bateaux to the highpowered inboards that won Gold Cup races on Lake George and the Kevlar pack canoes of today Drawing on her experience as an historian and Curator of Collections and Boats at the Adirondack Museum Bond places events and trends of the region in the context of national and international history and describes the significant contribution of the Adirondacks in the early twentieth century development of recreation and travel in America Boats and Boating in the Adirondacks also includes a descriptive catalog of boats from the museum s own collection with nearly two hundred illustrations in addition to those in the narrative a list of boatbuilders active in the North Country before 1975 and a valuable glossary of terms
