Although the Northern Burial Ground was covered by storm surges in the 1920s and later a sidewalk was built through the site Turner's fieldwork reveals a wealth of material culture She points to the cemetery's location near water trees planted at the heads of graves personal items left with the dead and remnants of food offerings as evidence of mortuary practices originating in West and Central Africa According to Turner these African influenced ways of memorializing the dead illustrate W E B Du Bois's idea of double consciousness the experience of existing in two irreconcilable cultures at the same time Comparing the burial ground with others in Great Britain and the American colonies Turner demonstrates how Africans in the Atlantic diaspora did not always adopt European customs but often created a separate parallel world for themselves A volume in the Florida Museum of Natural History Ripley P Bullen Series      Bioarchaeology of Pre-Columbian
