Morrow, 2016-06-01 The life of Monica Wilson is a story of groundbreaking scholarship passionate creativity and personal tragedy during South Africa's bitter and divided twentieth century As a young anthropologist in the 1930s Monica immersed herself in the lives work and beliefs of African communities in southern and East Africa while carefully observing the effects of historical change At the core of her existence was her intellectual collaboration and intense personal relationship with her husband the brilliant but clinically depressive Godfrey Wilson who took his own life in 1944 After Godfrey's death Monica raised their two children and built a career as a leading academic at Fort Hare Rhodes University College and the University of Cape Town In a political environment where black academics were under constant threat and ideas were censored she outspokenly advocated racial equality and freedom of speech her publications emphasising a common South African identity and implicitly challenging apartheid separate development This fascinating biography moves between the Eastern Cape Cambridge Tanganyika Nyasaland Northern Rhodesia and Cape Town It explores the relationship between anthropology and history and the tensions between liberalism Christianity Marxism and apartheid ideology Drawing on the letters and diaries left by Monica and Godfrey Wilson this is a powerful story about politics race war faith love and loss The Road to

Soweto Julian Brown, 2016 Conclusion Consequences Bibliography Index Making Music, Making Society Josep Martí, Sara Revilla, 2018-01-23 A society is the result of interacting individuals and individuals are also the result of this interaction This interaction happens through music among other factors As such music constitutes a powerful resource for symbolic interaction which constitutes the medium and substance of a culture The importance of music in a society is clearly brought to light in the role that it plays in the three basic parameters of the social logics identity social order and the need for exchange If music is so important to us it is because apart from its assigned aesthetic values it fits closely with the dynamics of each of these three different parameters These parameters which are consubstantial to the social nature of the human being constitute the core of the book as they manifest in musical practices This publication addresses important issues such as the role of music in shaping identities how music and social order are intertwined and why music is so relevant in human interaction The last part of the book explores issues related to the social application of musical research The volume brings together specialists from different academic disciplines with the same powerful starting point music is not merely something related to the social but rather a social life itself something capable of structuring the social experience
