Nicholas de Villiers, 2017-03-21. The turn of the twenty first century has witnessed an eruption of nonfiction films on sex work.

The first book to examine a cross section of this diverse and transnational body of work Sexography confronts the ethical questions raised by ethnographic documentary and interviews with sexually marginalized subjects Nicholas de Villiers argues that carnal and cultural knowledge are inextricably entangled in ethnographic sex work documentaries De Villiers offers a reading of cinema as a technology of truth and advances a theory of confessional and counterconfessional performance by the interviewed subject who must negotiate both loaded questions and stigma He pays special attention to the tactical negotiation of power in these films and how cultural and geopolitical shifts have affected sex work and sex workers Throughout Sexography analyzes the films of a range of non sex worker filmmakers including Jennie Livingston Pier Paolo Pasolini Shohini Ghosh and Cui Zi en as well as films produced by sex workers In addition it identifies important parallels and intersections between queer and sex worker rights activist movements and their documentary historiography De Villiers ultimately demonstrates how commercial sex is intertwined with culture and power He advocates shifting our approach from scrutinizing the motives of those who sell sex to examining the motives and roles of the filmmakers and transnational audiences creating and consuming films about sex work

Questions to All Your Answers Roger E. Olson, 2009-05-26 Many Christians faith exists as a loose collection of unexamined clichés and slogans borrowed from songs devotional books sermon illustrations and even the internet Too often this belief system if it can be called a system lacks coherence and intelligibility it can hardly be expressed let alone defended to others The problem with folk religion is that it too easily withers under the onslaughts of secularism or seemingly reasonable answers provided by cults and new religions Christianity has a long tradition of intellectual examination of other faiths and its own beliefs Socrates said that the unexamined life is not worth living great Christian minds of all the ages have believed the unexamined faith is not worth believing Reflective Christianity is Christian faith that has subjected itself to the rigorous questioning of Scripture tradition reason and experience It is mature Christian faith that goes on believing even as it questions what it believes The goal of this book is not to destroy anyone s faith but to build it up by placing it on a firmer foundation of critical examination Ten popular Christian clichés are subjected to critical inquiry and interrogated to discover whether they contain truth or are in error In most cases the conclusion is both The aim is not to tear down straw men but to demonstrate a path toward stronger more mature Christian belief
