Formwork Concrete Society, Concrete Society Staff, Concrete Society. Construction Group, 1997 Concrete Structure Management - Guide to Ownership and Good Practice fib Fédération internationale du béton, 2008-01-01 Construction projects are undertaken to meet a variety of business service and aspirational objectives and needs The success of a building or an element of infrastructure depends on how well it meets the owner s needs and interests or those of the users Recent changes in owner attitudes to construction are reflected in an increasing interest in through life costs i e not only the capital costs of construction but also the operational costs associated with a structure's functional performance for a defined life span. The owner can greatly improve the likelihood of achieving the value they seek from the facility by being intimately and effectively involved in the definition of performance requirements at the start of the construction procurement process. The objective of fib Bulletin 44 is to provide guidance to owners of concrete structures on the management of their concrete structures, buildings and infrastructure as part of their business goals or the service objectives of their organization. Best practice in the management of concrete structures, their responsibilities with respect to the management of their concrete structures, the wider context and issues of service life design information and direction needed by the supporting professional team of architects, engineers, specifiers, contractors and others. This Guide also provides background information on topics such as deterioration processes and technical procedures used for the management of concrete structures, including reference to international standards for the protection and repair of concrete structures. These activities are illustrated by application examples, case histories and by a section addressing frequently asked questions. A brief review is made of some potential future developments.

European Building Construction Illustrated Francis D. K. Ching, Mark Mulville, 2014-02-10. The first European edition of Francis DK Ching's classic visual guide to the basics of building construction. For nearly four decades the US publication Building Construction Illustrated has offered an outstanding introduction to the principles of building construction. This new European edition focuses on the construction methods most commonly used in Europe, referring largely to UK Building Regulations overlaid with British and European while applying Francis DK Ching's clear graphic signature style. It provides a coherent and essential primer presenting all of the basic concepts underlying building construction and equipping readers with useful guidelines for approaching any new materials or techniques they may encounter. European Building Construction

Illustrated provides a comprehensive and lucid presentation of everything from foundations and floor systems to finish work. Laying out the material and structural choices available, it provides a full understanding of how these choices affect a building's form and dimensions. Complete with more than 1000 illustrations, the book moves through each of the key stages of the design process from site selection to building components, mechanical systems and finishes. Illustrated throughout with clear and accurate drawings that effectively communicate construction processes and materials. Provides an overview of the mainstream construction methods used in Europe. Based around the UK regulatory framework, the book refers to European level regulations where appropriate. References leading environmental assessment methods of BREEAM and LEED while outlining the Passive House Standard. Includes emerging construction methods driven by the sustainability agenda such as structural insulated panels and insulating concrete formwork. Features a chapter dedicated to construction in the Middle East focusing on the Gulf States.
