Mandela My Prisoner My Friend:

Mandela Christo Brand, Barbara Jones, 2014-10-02 Christo Brand was Nelson Mandela's prison warder on Robben Island for many years. In this book Christo tells for the first time the incredible and moving personal story about his unlikely friendship with one of the biggest political icons of the modern age. Mandela - My Prisoner, My Friend Christo Brand, 2014-02-17 Christo Brand was a South African farm boy born into the Afrikaans culture which had created apartheid, a racial system designed to persecute black people while claiming superiority for white people. Nelson Mandela, the black son of a tribal chief also raised in a rural village, trained as a lawyer to take up the fight against apartheid on behalf of a whole nation. Their opposing worlds collided when Christo, a raw recruit from the country's prison service, was sent to Robben Island to guard the notoriously dangerous terrorists. Mandela was their undisputed leader. The two of them, a boy of 19 and a long-suffering freedom fighter then aged 60, should have become bitter enemies. Instead, they formed an extraordinary friendship through small human kindnesses. Christo, a gentle young man who valued ordinary decency and courtesy, struck a chord with the wise and resilient freedom fighter, a man who was prepared to die if necessary to liberate his people. As an African tribesman, family was a priority for Mandela, and he knew that his life imprisonment meant that he might never be able to live with them again. When his mother died, he was refused permission to go to her funeral as the eldest son. Mandela held a great responsibility towards her, and he wept with shame and despair. Christo was witness to that despair many times during his years as Mandela's personal prison warder. He knew the heartbreak he suffered at never being able to see his children. So when Winnie secretly brought their tiny granddaughter to Robben Island, it was Christo who risked his own freedom to put the baby in Mandela's arms for a few moments. Their friendship was sealed by many such shared moments, sometimes merely a gesture or a smile, at other times an act of generosity which could have cost Christo his job. This bond of trust endured between the two men long after Mandela was freed. As President of South Africa, he invited Christo into his home, advised his son Riaan on his career, and gave Christo a job in the Constitutional Assembly in Parliament, drawing up the country's new laws. Shortly before passing away, he called for Christo again for the final time to say goodbye. In this book Christo tells for the first time the incredible and moving story of their unlikely friendship. Doing Life with Mandela Christo Brand, Barbara Jones, 2014 Christo Brand was Mandela's prison warder on Robben Island for many years, and he has a fabulous story to tell of their extraordinary and close friendship that continued from beyond the prison cell into Parliament. He was a white Afrikaans farm boy aged 18 when he was sent to Robben Island as a raw recruit from the prison service. He didn't even know who Mandela was. They told him he was a dangerous terrorist trying to bring down South Africa, so he hated him at first. But soon he saw the humanity, wisdom, and humility of Mandela. Doing Life with Mandela Christo Brand, 2022 Afrikaner farm boy Christo Brand joined the South African prison service at age 17 to avoid having to serve in the military, as all white males were required to do under the apartheid regime. He found himself guarding men he was told were the country's most notorious terrorists Nelson Mandela Walter Sisulu Ahmed Kathrada names that would later become legendary worldwide for moral and political heroism The lifelong friendship Brand forged with Mandela is the subject of his memoir first published in 2014 The book's London launch was presided over by Mandela's daughter Zindzi at her late father's behest Mandela passed away in December 2013 at age 95 Now updated and republished by Blue Ear Books with a special section of freshly commissioned writings by 16 people who knew both men well including fellow political prisoners family members European and North American activists and educators and a member of South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission Doing Life with Mandela My Prisoner My Friend is more timely than ever showing as it does the difference that personal respect and friendship can make in a racially divided society and under an oppressive regime
