limitations are evident at the national level where knowledge of the characteristics and patterns of missing persons is scant. Certain groups in the community and individual factors contribute to the risk of people going missing. This information is necessary to develop strategies that focus on improving preventative measures, early intervention, support services and referral mechanisms. This report updates existing data on missing persons across Australia in 2005-06 to identify at-risk groups. It presents information on good practice from preventative to support measures and outlines policies, practice and research directions. A current snapshot of missing persons is shown by national estimates, demographic characteristics and reporting. Family dysfunction and psychological reasons for going missing are complemented by details on searching, support, counselling services and intervention/prevention practices. Improving data quality, risk assessment procedures, specialised training and education of all stakeholders and inter-agency coordination are key priorities.
