Anticardiolipin antibody (ACA) assay (Enzygnost®) (Roche Diagnostics, Mannheim, Germany)

- 1) Stage three involves using these moments to reflect on students' use of language
- 2) In the first two questions students are asked to:
 - consider what they have learned
 - consider what they have learned (again) in connection with the knowledge they have learned
- 3) In the second two questions students are asked to explain features relating to other students' actions. Whilst this is a relatively straightforward task, it is important that only a maximum of three items be chosen and recorded, thus the other six questions may be considered as a form of peer-review. This task allows the first writing to be shared for peer review
- 4) The final two questions are to be done on a card, and are designed to 'reflect the previous work'
- 5) The final two questions focus on students' use of personal pronouns in their writing, and are designed to 'encourage students to reflect on their writing'.
- 6) During the questions, during writing, students are asked to write on separate cards, and to discuss the questions. During writing, students are asked to write on separate cards, and to discuss the questions.
- 7) During the questions, during writing, students are asked to write on separate cards, and to discuss the questions.
- 8) During the questions, during writing, students are asked to write on separate cards, and to discuss the questions.

- Directions: Read each item carefully and select the response that best describes the item. Record the appropriate response number (1-4) next to each item using a pencil or ballpoint pen.
1. The original author and publisher/producer is the only one who can create your citation. Do not create a "fake" duplicate if needed.
2. Duplicate, copy, reproduce, or otherwise use the citation on any of the following:
- a. Web browser (any search or retrieval from browser or browser of browser)
 - b. Make this page available in any format of your study aids or other format in the online presentation or the print copy of the material
 - c. Print any portion or to print without any or to create text or other presentation on any CD, DVD, or other digital storage, and/or any form of electronic storage (e.g., hard drive, memory, or database)
 - d. Create a new citation by combining the full answers to any question in the test bank. This is a copyright violation and will be reported to the publisher.

Abstract

The second is a paragraph with one word (either "and" or "because") followed by three words, then one word (either "or" or "because"), then four words (or three if the first word is "because"), then one word (either "or" or "because"), then four words (or three if the first word is "because").
