Department of Public Instruction, 1895 Formal Methods for Open Object-Based Distributed Systems Elie Najm, Uwe Nestmann, Perdita

Stevens,2003-11-24 This volume contains the proceedings of FMOODS 2003 the 6th IFIP WG 6.1 International Conference on Formal Methods for Open Object Based Distributed Systems The conference was held in Paris France on November 19-21 2003 The event was the sixth meeting of this conference series which is held roughly every year and a half the earlier events having been held in Paris Canterbury Florence Stanford and Twente

The goal of the FMOODS series of conferences is to bring together researchers whose work encompasses three important and related fields: formal methods, distributed systems, and object based technology. Such a convergence is representative of recent advances in the field of distributed systems and provides links between several scientific and technological communities as represented by the conferences FORTE, PSTV, CONCUR, and ECOOP. The objective of FMOODS is to provide an integrated forum for the presentation of research in the above mentioned fields and the exchange of ideas and experiences in the topics concerned with the formal methods support for open object based distributed systems. For the call for papers, aspects of interest of the considered systems included but were not limited to: formal models, formal techniques for specification, design, or analysis, component based design, verification, testing, and validation, semantics of programming, coordination, or modeling languages, type systems for programming, coordination, or modelling languages, behavioral typing, multiple viewpoint modelling, and consistency between different models, transformations of models, integration of quality of service requirements into formal models, formal models for security and applications, and experience carefully described. Institutional Ethnography as Practice Dorothy E. Smith, 2006-06-15 In this edited collection institutional ethnographers draw on their field research experiences to address different aspects of institutional ethnographic practice. As institutional ethnography embraces the actualities of people's experiences and lives, the contributors utilize their research to reveal how institutional relations and regimes are organized. As a whole, the book aims to provide readers with an accurate overview of what it is like to practice institutional ethnography as well as the main varieties of approaches involved in the research. Start Young! Shannan

McNair, 2006 You asked for it, now you've got it! In a focus group at a recent NSTA convention, teachers of prekindergarten through second grade clamored for help. They do want easy to do science activities they can use for everyday teaching. But they don't want to be forced to adapt material meant for older children. So here's the solution: Start Young! offers a wealth of simple educational activities designed to use right away with even the littlest scientists. The book includes a chapter of helpful background on the latest thinking about effective ways to introduce science in early childhood. But the bulk of the book is two dozen articles compiled from Science Children, NSTA's award winning journal for elementary school teachers.
