Hindu Nationalism, History and Identity in India Lars Tore Flåtén, 2016-10-04

When the Hindu nationalist Bharatiya Janata Party BJP assumed power in India in 1998 as the largest party of the National Democratic Alliance it soon became evident that it prioritized educational reforms Under BJP rule a reorganization of the National Council of Educational Research and Training occurred and in 2002 four new history textbooks were published This book examines the new textbooks which were introduced considering them to be integral to the BJP's political agenda. It analyses the ways in which their narrative and explanatory frameworks defined and invoked Hindu identity. Employing the concept of decontextualization, the author argues that notions of Hindu cultural similarity were conveyed particularly as the textbooks paid scarce attention to social, geographical and temporal contexts in their approaches to Indian history. The book shows that intrinsic to the textbooks' emphasis on similarity is a systematic backgrounding of any references to internal lines of division within the Hindu community. Through a comparison with earlier textbooks, it sheds light on the contested nature of history writing in India, especially in terms of nation building and identity construction. This issue is also highly relevant in India today due to the electoral success of the BJP in 2014 and the efforts of the Hindu nationalist organization Vishwa Hindu Parishad to construct a coherent Hinduism. Arguing that the textbooks operate according to the BJP's ideology of Hindu cultural nationalism, this book will be of interest to academics in the field of South Asian studies, contemporary history, the uses of history, identity, politics and Hindu nationalism.

The Publishers Weekly, 1926 Contested Curriculum Don Romesburg, 2025. Contested Curriculum recounts the fight for LGBTQ-inclusive K-12 history education in the United States. Historian Don Romesburg makes a powerful case for why teaching about LGBTQ lives in schools can help us produce more informed, more thoughtful and more compassionate citizens.

Putnam George Palmer PUTNAM (Publisher.), 1851 The Acharnians Aristophanes, 1870 British Museum Catalogue of printed Books, 1897 Globalisation, Nation-Building and History Education Joseph Zajda, John Whitehouse, 2024-03-19

This book uses historiography and discourse analysis to provide a new insight into understanding the nexus between ideologies, the state and nation building as depicted in history school textbooks. It focuses on the interpretation of social and political change, significant events and examining possible new biases and omissions in school textbooks. The Europeanization of history textbooks in the EU is an example of western-dominated Grand Narrative of pluralist democracy, multiculturalism and human rights according to the canon of a particularly European dimension. Various public debates in the USA, China, the Russian Federation, RF, Japan and elsewhere dealing with understandings of a nation building, national identity and history education point out to parallels between the political significance of school history and the history education debates globally. The book demonstrates that the issue of national identity and balanced representations of the past continue to dominate the debate surrounding the goals, dominant ideologies and content of history textbooks and historical narratives. It concludes that competing discourses and ideologies will continue to define and shape the nature and significance of historical knowledge, ideologies and the direction of values education in history textbooks. This book provides an easily accessible, practical yet scholarly insights into local and global trends in the field of history education and should be required reading for a broad spectrum of users including policy makers, academics, graduate students, education policy researchers, administrators and
