

THE HUMAN BODY: AN ORIENTATION

Most of mankind is genetically inferior to the animals, and the needs of human and domesticated representatives have, therefore, had to be met by devices or tools rather than by the use of natural means. This added knowledge to the human mind, and the human mind is the only one that has ever been able to create a new world of knowledge, which is the only one that has ever been able to create a new world of knowledge, which is the only one that has ever been able to create a new world of knowledge.

The study of the human body is the study of the human body, and the study of the human body is the study of the human body. The study of the human body is the study of the human body, and the study of the human body is the study of the human body. The study of the human body is the study of the human body, and the study of the human body is the study of the human body.
