Figure 4.4 outlines the effort to create the Big Sister State's online presence over a two-year period. Developing a fully featured website took three years to complete, although a prototype was made for the state's 10th birthday. When completed, the Big Sister State's 10th birthday site consisted of thirteen sections from which links led to various governmental websites that the state used. By 2010, almost a year after launch, the website, including the 10th birthday website, had been completely replaced with a revised, more functional website that only was able to give citizens the same content that the government's other sites already had. The 2010s website, which features links to various government websites, is intended to give citizens the same content as the other government websites.
