Samuel Torvend,2018-01-05 Martin Luther lived in a society in which malnourishment and hunger were widespread Samuel Torvend estimates that at least fifty if not sixty five percent of the population were living on the edge of subsistence unsure each day as to where they would find an adequate supply of food to feed themselves and family members In the midst of astounding wealth the present time also witnesses much hunger and malnourishment throughout the world Torvend claims that Luther usually considered a reformer of theology was committed to the reform of society His theological project issued forth in a social ethic that addressed the growing incidence of hunger and homelessness in his own time Yet as Luther s fragmentary writings demonstrate this theological and ethical project was and continues to be communicated through the practice of the reformed Mass Torvend shows that Martin Luther was keenly aware of the needs of the poor Along with all major interpreters he too finds the center of Luther s theology in the concept of God s alien righteousness the justification of the sinner by God s sheer grace through faith But he demonstrates that this conviction had profound implications for Luther s understanding of the Christian life The baptized were made free to live in this world as the sacrament of the living Christ to engage this world as Christ had engaged the world of his time The Pragmatics of

Virtual Interaction Geert Brône, Kurt Feyaerts, Elisabeth Zima, Silva H. Ladewig, 2025-08-28 A fundamental property of human language is its ability to simultaneously represent subjects objects or events and express the speaker's stance towards these representations The notion of stance taking involves a positioning along three different axes epistemic the distribution of knowledge e.g. by expressing certainty or uncertainty affective the expression of attitudes and feelings and deontic the expression of desirability or necessity of an action Psycho linguistics and neighboring fields have a long track record in the study of stance taking as a socially contextualized and recognized interpersonal phenomenon focusing on the lexical and grammatical resources that language users have at their disposal to communicate stance but also on the cognitive processes underlying this positioning In addition the phenomenon has been studied extensively in different communicative settings from spontaneous face to face communication to institutional and mediated forms of interaction from different disciplinary angles Interactional Linguistics Ethnomethodology Cognitive Psychology HCI Research etc and using different empirical methods from controlled experiments to qualitative and quantitative corpus analysis
