Artificial Neural Nets and Genetic Algorithms David W. Pearson,Nigel C. Steele,Rudolf Albrecht,2011-06-28 The 2003 edition of ICANNNGA marks a milestone in this conference series because it is the tenth year of its existence The series began in 1993 with the inaugural conference at Innsbruck in Austria At that first conference the organisers decided to organise a similar scientific meeting every two years As a result conferences were organised at Ales in France 1995 Norwich in England 1997 Portoroz in Slovenia 1999 and Prague in the Czech Republic 2001 It is a great honour that the conference is taking place in France for the second time Each edition of ICANNNGA has been special and had its own character Not only that participants have been able to sample the life and local culture in five different European coun tries Originally limited to neural networks and genetic algorithms the conference has broadened its outlook over the past ten years and now includes papers on soft computing and artificial intelligence in general This is one of the reasons why the reader will find papers on fuzzy logic and various other topics not directly related to neural networks or genetic algorithms included in these proceedings We have however kept the same name International Conference on Artificial Neural Networks and Genetic Algorithms All of the papers were sorted into one of six principal categories neural network theory neural network applications genetic algorithm and evolutionary computation theory genetic algorithm and evolutionary computation applications fuzzy and soft computing theory fuzzy and soft computing applications Fracture Mechanics 2 Ammar Grous, 2013-02-05 This second book of a 3 volume set on Fracture Mechanics completes the first volume through the analysis of adjustment tests suited to correctly validating the justified use of the laws conforming to the behavior of the materials and structures under study This volume focuses on the vast range of statistical distributions encountered in reliability Its aim is to run statistical measurements to present a report on enhanced measures in mechanical reliability and to evaluate the reliability of repairable or unrepairable systems To achieve this the author presents a theoretical and practice based approach on the following themes criteria of failures Bayesian applied probability Markov chains Monte Carlo simulation as well as many other solved case studies This book distinguishes itself from other works in the field through its originality in presenting an educational approach which aims at helping practitioners both in academia and industry It is intended for technicians engineers designers students and teachers working in the fields of engineering and vocational education The main objective of the author is to provide an assessment of indicators of quality and reliability to aid in decision making To this end an intuitive and practical approach based on mathematical rigor is recommended
