History Common Paper February And March 2014 Kzn:

A History of the Present Ashwin Desai, Goolam Vahed, 2019-09-12 Through the long 20th century Indian South Africans lived under the whip of settler colonialism and white minority rule which saw the passing of a slew of legislation that circumscribed their freedom of movement threatened repatriation and denied them citizenship all the while herding them into racially segregated townships This volume chronicles the broad outlines of this history Taking the story into the present it provides an analysis of how Indian South Africans have responded to changes wrought by the remarkable collapse of apartheid and the holding of the first democratic elections in 1994 Drawing upon archival records in depth interviews and ethnography this study examines the ways in which Indian South Africans define themselves and the world around them and how they are defined by others It tells of the incredible journey of Indian South Africans many of whom are fourth and fifth generation towards being recognized as citizens in the land of their birth and how while often attracted by and seeking to explore their roots in India they continue to dig deeper roots in African soil

Give a Man a Fish James Ferguson, 2015-05-09 In Give a Man a Fish James Ferguson examines the rise of social welfare programs in southern Africa in which states make cash payments to their low income citizens More than thirty percent of South Africa's population receive such payments even as pundits elsewhere proclaim the neoliberal death of the welfare state These programs successes at reducing poverty under conditions of mass unemployment Ferguson argues provide an opportunity for rethinking contemporary capitalism and for developing new forms of political mobilization Interested in an emerging politics of distribution Ferguson shows how new demands for direct income payments including so called basic income require us to reexamine the relation between production and distribution and to ask new questions about markets livelihoods labor and the future of progressive politics

Making Public in a Privatized World David A. McDonald, 2016-02-15 How do we provide effective public services in a deeply neoliberal world In the wake of the widespread failure of privatisation efforts societies in the global south are increasingly seeking progressive ways of recreating the public sector With contributors ranging from cutting edge scholars to activists working in health water and energy provision and with case studies covering a broad spectrum of localities and actors Making Public in a Privatized World uncovers the radically different ways in which public services are being reshaped from the grassroots up From communities holding the state accountable for public health in rural Guatemala to waste pickers in India and decentralized solar electricity initiatives in Africa the essays in this collection offer probing insights into the complex ways in which people are building genuine alternatives to privatization while also illustrating the challenges which communities face in creating public services which are not subordinated to the logic of the market or to the monolithic state entities of the past

A History of Travel in 50 Vehicles Paula Grey, 2016-09-06 Paula Grey explores how creative thinkers collaborating or competing and always building on the work of their predecessors have envisioned new ways to move about in the world The story of travel is the human story From the first migrations out of Africa on weary feet to horses camels rafts chariots steamships trains hot air balloons cars submarines and moon rockets humans have combined imagination daring and technical brilliance to create new vehicles and improve existing ones Geography and culture have influenced the development of vehicles in far flung parts of the world and human travel has in turn exerted a profound influence on society and the environment Whether escaping deprivation pestilence persecution oppression or fear or seeking abundance freedom fame fortune or a fresh start we have always been a traveling species and it seems we always will be Here is the story of humankind s restless impulse to see what s over the next ridge beyond the next sunrise on the next planet Enjoy the journey Fountas Pinnell Level Z Georgetown Journal of International Affairs, Summer/Fall 2014

Medha Raj, Warren Ryan, 2014-09-08 This issue of the Georgetown Journal of International Affairs focuses on the topic of Destabilizing Demographics exploring the opportunities and challenges presented by dynamic population patterns and structures Demographic shifts affect multiple facets of international affairs impacting economies modifying politics and reshaping the fabric of our societies These changes could have catastrophic international consequences if ignored or evaded This edition concludes with articles regarding decidedly twenty first century concerns communication integration and globalization The Georgetown Journal of International Affairs is the official publication of the Edmund A Walsh School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University Each issue of the journal provides readers with a diverse array of timely peer reviewed content penned by top policymakers business leaders and academic luminaries The History of Business in Africa Grietjie Verhoef, 2017-10-16 This book offers a comprehensive study of the history of African business By analyzing the specificities of African business culture as well as the dynamically changing African policy context the author sheds new light on the development of African enterprises markets and institutions The book covers a wide range of historical studies starting with the earliest exchange networks the new market opportunities resulting from European penetration the dualism of state owned companies and private enterprises during the twentieth century the role of foreign direct investments and multinational companies during the 1990s and the globalization of African business Prisoners of the Past Steven Friedman, 2021-06-01 Building on the work of economic historian Douglass North and Ugandan political scholar Mahmood Mamdani Friedman argues that the difficulties besetting South African democracy are legacies of the past not products of the post 1994 era South Africa s democracy is often seen as a story of bright beginnings gone astray a pattern said to be common to Africa The negotiated settlement of 1994 it is claimed ended racial domination and created the foundation for a prosperous democracy but greedy politicians betrayed the promise of a new society In Prisoners of the Past Steven Friedman astutely argues that this misreads the nature of contemporary South Africa Building on the work of the economic historian Douglass North and the political thinker Mahmood Mamdani Friedman shows that South African democracy s difficulties are legacies of the pre 1994 past The settlement which ushered in majority rule left intact core features of the apartheid economy and society The economy continues to exclude millions from its benefits while racial hierarchies have proved stubborn apartheid is discredited but the values of the pre 1948 colonial era the period of British colonization still dominate Thus South Africa s democracy supports free elections civil liberties and the rule of law but also continues past patterns of exclusion and domination Friedman reasons that this path dependence is not as is often claimed the result of constitutional compromises in 1994 that left domination untouched This bargain was flawed because it brought not too much compromise but too little Compromises extended political citizenship to all but there were no similar bargains on economic and cultural change Using the work of the radical sociologist Harold Wolpe Friedman shows that only negotiations on a new economy and society can free South Africans from the prison of the past

Shadow of Liberation Vishnu Padayachee, Robert Van Niekerk, 2019-10-01 Shadow of Liberation explores the intricate twists turns contestations and compromises of ANC economic and social policymaking with a focus on the transition era of the 1990 s and the early years of democracy With the damning revelations by the Zondo Commission of Inquiry into State Capture on the massive corruption of the South African body politic the timing of this book could not be more relevant South Africans need to confront the economic and social policy choices that the liberation movement made and to see how these decisions may have facilitated the conditions for corruption to emerge and flourish Answers are needed Padayachee and van Niekerk focus their attention on the primary question of how and why the ANC given its historical anti inequality re distributive stance come in the 1990s to such a dramatic turn around and move towards an essentially market dominated approach Were they pushed or did they go willingly What role if any did Western governments and international financial institutions play And what of the role of the late apartheid state and South African business Did leaders and comrades sell out the ANC s emancipatory policy vision Shadow of Liberation tries to provide answers to these questions drawing on the best available primary archival evidence as well as extensive interviews with key protagonists across the political non government and business spectrum The authors argue that the ANC s emancipatory policy agenda was broadly to establish a social democratic welfare state upholding rights of social citizenship However its economic policy framework to realise this emancipatory mission was either non existent or egregiously misguided

How Social Movements Imagine Bobby Luthra Sinha, 2024-08-30 This book examines how micro contextual issues inspire collective social action forms against everyday situations of crises and crimes through an interdisciplinary ethnographic and comparative research conducted among Bishnois and Indian South Africans Exploring the role of the publics that practise and mobilise their social movement imaginations the work delves into peoples ability to move beyond their immediate contexts and politicise multiple social spaces and discursive spheres around them to project their causes Mapping an anti poaching movement spearheaded by the Bishnois of Western Rajasthan in India and an anti substance abuse movement led by the historical Indian diaspora of South Africa the author argues that such contemporary forms of organised social action replete with alternative frames symbols and repertoires possess key requisites to be understood as the Newer Social Movements of the Global South The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of social and protest movements migration and diaspora studies political science social anthropology and ethnography

How Long Will South Africa Survive? R.W. Johnson, 2015-01-11 In 1977 Johnson's best selling How Long Will South Africa Survive offered a controversial and highly original analysis of the survival prospects of apartheid. Now after more than two decades of the ANC in government he believes the question must be posed again. The big question about ANC rule Johnson writes is whether African nationalism would be able to cope with the challenges of running a modern industrial economy. Twenty years of ANC rule have shown conclusively that the party is hopelessly ill equipped for this task. Indeed everything suggests that South Africa under the ANC is fast slipping backward and that even the survival of South Africa as a unitary state cannot be taken for granted. The fundamental reason why the question of regime change has to be posed is that it is now clear that South Africa can either choose to have an ANC government or it can have a modern industrial economy. It cannot have both.

Rethinking Revolution Leo Panitch, Greg Albo, 2016-12 One hundred years ago October 1917 galvanized leftists and oppressed peoples around the globe and became the lodestar for 20th century politics. Today the left needs to reckon with this legacy and transcend it. Social change as it was understood in the 20th century appears now to be as impossible as revolution leaving the left to rethink the relationship between capitalist crises as well as the conceptual tension between revolution and reform. Populated by an array of passionate thinkers and thoughtful activists Rethinking Revolution reappraises the historical effects of the Russian revolution positive and negative on political intellectual and cultural life and looks at consequent revolutions after 1917. Change needs to be understood in relation to the distinct trajectories of radical politics in different regions. But the main purpose of this Socialist Register edition one century after Red October is to look forward to what might happen next. Acclaimed authors interrogate and explore compelling issues including Greg Albo New socialist strategies or detours Jodi Dean Are the multitudes communing Revolutionary agency and political forms today Adolph Reed Are racial minorities revolutionary agents Zillah Eisenstein Revolutionary feminisms today Nina Power Accelerated technology decelerated revolution David Schwartzman Beyond global warming Is solar communism possible Andrea Malm Revolution and counter revolution in an era of climate change

'Sisters in the Struggle' Kalpana Hiralal, 2023-02-10 Sisters in the struggle Women of Indian Origin in South Africa's Liberation Struggle 1900 1994 unveils an uncharted historical terrain highlighting the contributions of Indian women towards non racialism and equality and their experiences within diverse political parties therefore shifting the post apartheid liberation stories which have been dominated by the journey of the ANC to other political organisations who collectively played a significant role in South Africa's road to democracy In this book Hiralal presents a refreshing perspective of Indians particularly women as contributors and activists in the struggle The book elucidates that the struggle against apartheid was a collective endeavour among the oppressed races and not a one sided endeavour by the ANC The book thus examines the participation of Indian women against apartheid and colonialism within gendered and political frameworks

Judis, 2023-11-07 A Wall Street

Journal Best Political Book of 2023 A much needed wake up call for the Democrats which reveals how the party has lost sight of its core principles and endangered its political future from the authors of one of the most influential political books of the 21st century The New York Times For decades American politics has been plagued by a breakdown between the Democratic and Republican parties in which victory has inevitably led to defeat and vice versa Both parties have lost sight of the people at the center of the American electorate leading to polarization and paralysis In Where Have All the Democrats Gone John B

Judis and Ruy Teixeira reveal the tectonic changes shaping the country's current political landscape that both pundits and political scientists have missed. The Democratic Party once the preserve of small towns as well as big cities and of the industrial working class and the newly immigrated has abandoned and even actively alienated many of these voters. In this clarion call and essential argument for common sense and common ground Judis and Teixeira reveal the transformation of American politics and provide a razor sharp critique of where the Democrats have gone awry and how they can avoid political disaster in the days ahead.

South Africa-- the Present as History John S. Saul, Patrick Bond, 2014 A new history of South Africa that examines today's post apartheid society through the lens of its earlier history.

Contested World Orders Matthew D. Stephen, Michael Zürn, 2019-07-11 World orders are increasingly contested. As international institutions have taken on ever more ambitious tasks they have been challenged by rising powers dissatisfied with existing institutional inequalities by non governmental organizations worried about the direction of global governance and even by some established powers no longer content to lead the institutions they themselves created. For the first time this volume examines these sources of contestation under a common and systematic institutionalist framework. While the authority of institutions has deepened at the same time it has fuelled contestation and resistance. In a series of rigorous and empirically revealing chapters the authors of Contested World Orders examine systematically the demands of key actors in the contestation of international institutions. Ranging in scope from the World Trade Organization and the Nuclear Non proliferation Regime to the Kimberley Process on conflict diamonds and the climate finance provisions of the UNFCCC the chapters deploy a variety of methods to reveal just to what extent and along which lines of conflict rising powers and NGOs contest international institutions. Contested World Orders seeks answers to the key questions of our time. Exactly how deeply are international institutions contested? Which actors seek the most fundamental changes? Which aspects of international institutions have generated the most transnational conflicts? And what does this mean for the future of world order?
