Screen Design Manual Frank Thissen, 2003-09-11 The Screen Design Manual provides designers of interactive media with a practical working guide for preparing and presenting information that is suitable for both their target groups and the media they are using. It highlights background information and relationships, clarifying them with examples and encourages the further development of the language of digital media. In addition to the basics of perception and learning psychology, ergonomics, communication theory, imagery research, and aesthetics, the book also considers design navigation and orientation elements. Guidelines and checklists along with the comprehensive design of the book support the transfer of information into practice. Frank Thissen teaches multimedia didactics and information design at the University of Applied Sciences in Stuttgart. For over 10 years, he has been developing computer-based training. He has worked for international companies such as Siemens AG and SAP AG. His research project explores the role of emotion in e-learning. www.frankthissen.de

Location Behaviour and Relationship Stability in International Business Networks Bart Kamp, 2006-12-05 This new book investigates how the relationships of international business networks, one buyer, multiple suppliers, develop over time, looking at the geographical angle as well as an actor composition point of view. Bart Kamp presents a framework that reveals what business to business (b2b) factors explain buyer-supplier co-location patterns, making it possible to predict the geographical behaviour of suppliers and also assesses whether longevity is truly the deep-rooted feature of international b2b network relationships that it is often claimed to be.
