Engineering Design and Mathematical Modelling Nnamdi Nwulu, Mammo Muchie, 2020-12-17 Engineering Design and Mathematical Modelling Concepts and Applications consists of chapters that span the Engineering design and mathematical modelling domains Engineering design and mathematical modelling are key tools techniques in the Science Technology and Innovation spheres Whilst engineering design is concerned with the creation of functional innovative products and processes mathematical modelling seeks to utilize mathematical principles and concepts to describe and control real world phenomena Both of these can be useful tools for spurring and hastening progress in developing countries They are also areas where Africa needs to skill up in order to build a technological base The chapters in this book cover the relevant research trends in the fields of both engineering design and mathematical modelling This book was originally published as a special issue of the African Journal of Science Technology Innovation and Development "ECEG2016-Proceedings of 16th European Conference on e-Government ECEG 2016 " Mitja De Man, Tina Juki, 2016-06-02 Imaging and Assessing Mobile Technology for Development Richard Musabe, John Sören Pettersson, 2024-04-08 Imaging and assessing mobile technology for development M4D means understanding the use of appropriate technologies and services and how they directly or indirectly address socio economic challenges This book adopts various perspectives to identify the obstacles to affordable digital technologies in order to enable enhance and effect development The book plays on the tension between success reports and optimistic projections on one hand and empirical evidence of technological belly splash on the other hand The areas covered include infusion of service education in computing education the Rwandan establishment of African Centres of Excellence to promote the development of appropriate technology the metaverse s realisation in a mobile network enabled metaversity and difficulties detected when evaluating digitisation of distance learning students security awareness dissemination of agricultural information and mobile payment The decolonisation of community based media and attempts to step outside the mobile network and Internet are also covered Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa Mafukata, Mavhungu Abel, 2020-12-25 Human movement has an influence on the socio economic dynamics of people regions and countries The schisms between host and immigrants impact how host countries utilize immigrant skills and expertise to benefit their economies However immigrants are impacted by negative diplomatic relations between countries that limit the free movement of people and the welfare of immigrants In association this brings about social challenges such as Afrophobia racism xenophobia hatred and violence within these countries While these challenges are deeply rooted across the world Africa has its own unique challenges Still struggling with massive underdevelopment Africa needs to remove all the negative factors that could impede its quest of achieving development imperatives Impact of Immigration and Xenophobia on Development in Africa analyzes the genesis and evolution of immigration in Africa and how this has resulted in social challenges such as xenophobia within the continent The book focuses on demonstrating how immigrant skills and expertise can be positively utilized to assist African development and asserts the existence of xenophobia in respective countries does not assist Africa's quest of resolving its own challenges. The chapters within this book therefore explore how this subsequent output of xenophobia has impacted African development and focuses on the revival of Pan Africanism as a uniting instrument and ideology for Africans. This book is a valuable reference tool for activists, retired and practicing politicians, governments, policymakers, practitioners, stakeholders, researchers, students and academicians. Inyathi Ibuzwa Kwabaphambili

Babalwa Magoqwana, Siphokazi Magadla, Athambile Masola, 2024-10-21 This book seeks to create a systematic, eclectic historical picture of the present and past women intellectuals, activists, artists and cultural custodians. Using the concept of ukufukama (incubate), we connect intergenerational knowledge transfer of our elders to the current struggles faced by the younger generation of women. We bring together different authors who engage the biographical and intellectual contributions of different African women and their imagination of the democratic South Africa. Writing about the various feminist intellectual traditions between the 19th and 21st centuries, this book systematically pulls together oral and creative texts to recover the memories of Nosuthu Jotelo Sarah Baartman, Nontsizi Mgcwetho, Phyllis Ntantala, Brigalia Bam, Umntwana uMagogo, Miriam Makeba, Sibongile Khumalo, Lebo Mathosa, Thandiswa Mazwai, Celeste Ntuli, Nkosazana Dlamini Zuma, Neo Mathabe among the lives and works covered here. This range of voices shows that intellectual work is varied and has the ability to sit alongside each other. It importantly shows that scholarship emerges through community and conversation, which is to say feminist histories are created and recreated through conversations that care about women's voices, stories and being in the world. Ultimately, we think of the women featured in this book as forming a lineage, a tradition of black women's survival wisdom which facilitated change and enduring radical transformation that demands theorisation and celebration. Vermicomposting for Sustainable Food Systems in Africa Hupenyu Allan Mupambwa, Lydia Ndinelao

Horn, Pearson Nyari Stephano Mkeni, 2023-03-01 This edited book collates the research done mainly in Africa on vermicomposting and related technologies that can assist African smallholder farmers in making nutrient-rich organic fertilizers from their animal and crop residue wastes. Information on the development of organic sources of liquid fertilizer development for hydroponics is also presented. The book presents research findings on vermicomposting in a simplified way that will allow farmers and extension workers to adopt the indicated technologies. The book also covers critical aspects of standardization of vermicompost preparation, earthworm biology, nutrient enrichment of composts and organic liquid fertilizer production. Vermicomposting is a technology that employs earthworms to enhance the biodegradation and fertilizer value of organic wastes. The earthworms optimize the biodegradation ecosystem during composting, resulting in a final nutrient-rich product with more recalcitrant forms of carbon and much lower levels of veterinary antibiotics and their metabolites. Vermicompost as an organic fertilizer is highly preferred over other forms of soil enhancers. A lot of research has been done on vermicompost and related activities in Africa but remain scattered across various publications. The book is an invaluable source of information for farmers especially those practicing organic crop production vermicomposting researchers as well as extension workers

Tularemia: Epidemiology, Ecology, Genomics, Immunity and Pathogenesis Marina Santic, Anders Sjöstedt, Thomas Henry, Jiri Stulik, Max Maurin, Anders Johansson, Joseph Wayne Conlan, 2020-01-22 Tularemia is a severe anthroponosis caused by Francisella tularensis. The genus Francisella contains five species: F. tularensis, F. philomiragia, F. hispaniensis, F. noatunensis, and F. novicida. First described in 1911 in Tulare County, California, it has since been reported worldwide, capable of infecting more than 250 vertebrate and invertebrate species. Although it causes disease in various animal species, no animal has been identified as a main reservoir of this pathogen. Humans acquire infection by several routes, including direct contact with infected animals, ingestion of water or food contaminated by infected animals, exposure to infected arthropod vectors, or by inhalation of infective aerosols, resulting in pneumonic, oropharyngeal, glandular, ulceroglandular, or oculoglandular tularemia. The clinical presentation of human tularemia depends on route of infection, the causative Francisella strain, and the immune response of the host. A live attenuated vaccine, LVS, has been available for more than 50 years, however, unlikely to become licensed in the future due to a lack of understanding of the genetic basis for its attenuation. Due to the ease of its dissemination, its multiple routes of infection, its low dose of infection, severe morbidity, and high rate of mortality, F. tularensis subsp. tularensis has been classified as a category A bioterrorism agent by the CDC. Many virulence factors of F. tularensis have been discovered and investigated, but more in-depth host-pathogen interaction analyses are needed to define mechanisms of pathogenicity and virulence of this unique pathogen. Anchored in Place Leslie Bank, Nico Cloete, 2018-11-05 Tensions in South African universities have traditionally centred around equity, particularly access and affordability, historical legacies such as apartheid and colonialism, and the shape and structure of the higher education system. What has not received sufficient attention is the contribution of the university to place-based development. This volume is the first in South Africa to engage seriously with the place-based developmental role of universities. In the international literature and policy, there has been an increasing integration of the university with place-based development, especially in cities. This volume weighs in on the debate by drawing attention to the place-based roles and agency of South African universities in their local towns and cities. It acknowledges that universities were given specific development roles in regions, homelands, and towns under apartheid, and comments on why sub-national place-based development has not been a key theme in post-apartheid higher education planning. Given the developmental crisis in the country, universities could be expected to play a more constructive and meaningful role in the development of their own precincts, cities, and regions. But what should that role be? Is there evidence that this is already occurring in South Africa despite the lack of a national policy framework? What plans and programmes are in place, and what is needed to expand the development agency of universities at the local level? Who and what might be involved? Where should the focus lie, and who might benefit most, and why? Is there a need, perhaps, to approach the challenges of college towns, secondary cities, and metropolitan centers differently? This book poses some of these questions as it considers the experiences of a number of South African universities including Wits Pretoria Nelson Mandela University and especially Fort Hare as one of its post centenary challenges Decoloniality, Language and Literacy Carolyn McKinney, Pam Christie, 2021-12-20 Through a range of unconventional genres representations of data and dialogic reflective narratives alongside more traditional academic genres this book engages with contexts of decoloniality and border thinking in the Global South It addresses processes of knowledge production and participation in the highly divided and unequal schooling and higher education system in South Africa and highlights the consequences of the monolingual myth in post colonial education demonstrating opportunities for learning provided by translanguaging It explores both embodied multimodal and multilingual instances of knowledge making in teaching and teacher education that take place outside but alongside formal classroom lecture and seminar modes and the positionality and learning experiences of teacher educators in science literacy and language across the curriculum The book is not only transdisciplinary but also captures the learning that takes place beyond the borders of disciplines and formal classroom spaces Transnational Histories of Southern Africa's Liberation Movements Jocelyn Alexander, JoAnn McGregor, Blessing-Miles Tendi, 2020-05-21 Transnational Histories of Southern Africa s Liberation Movements offers new perspectives on southern Africa s wars of national liberation drawing on extensive oral historical and archival research Assuming neither the primacy of nationalist loyalties as they exist today nor any single path to liberation the book unpicks any notion of a straightforward imposition of Cold War ideologies or strategic interests on liberation wars This approach adds new dimensions to the rich literatures on the Global Cold War and on solidarity movements The contributors trace the ways that ideas and practices were made adopted and circulated through time and space through a focus on African soldiers politicians and diplomats The book also asks what motivated the men and women who crossed borders to join liberation movements how Cold War influences were acted upon interpreted and used and why certain moments venues and relations took on exaggerated importance The connections among liberation movements between them and their hosts and across an extraordinarily diverse set of external actors reveal surprising exchanges and lasting legacies that have too often been obscured by the assertion of monolithic national histories Tracing an extraordinarily diverse set of interactions and exchanges Transnational Histories of Southern Africa s Liberation Movements will be of great interest to scholars of Southern Africa Transnational History the Cold War and African Politics The chapters were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Southern African Studies Crowdfunding and Sustainable Urban Development in Emerging Economies Benna, Umar G., Benna, Abubakar U., 2018-02-28 Economic and societal systems continually evolve as the needs and demands of society change With the development of new technologies research and discoveries various opportunities emerge for venture development and developing economies Crowdfunding and Sustainable Urban Development in Emerging Economies provides innovative research on current issues in the rise of new platforms for digital activities a collaborative economy crowdsourcing crowdfunding and other activities that are shaping

Paradise Lost, 2022-06-13 Paradise Lost Race and Racism in Post apartheid South Africa is about the continuing salience of race and persistence of racism in post apartheid South Africa The chapters in the volume illustrate the multiple ways in which race and racism are manifested and propose various strategies to confront racial inequality racism and the power structure that underpins it while exploring how through a renewed commitment to a non racial society apartheid racial categories can be put under erasure at exactly the time they are being reinforced ICMLG2016-4th International
