

Applications of Area, Length and Distances

1. A sector of a circle is a region of the circle bounded by a central angle and the corresponding arc.

As proportional relationships exist between the central angle bounding the sector and the complete circle, these have previously determined relations that could be used to predict that arc length of a circle is directly $\propto$ (proportional) central angle values or distances of rotation. This function gives the formula for arc length of a circle of radius r in given angles.

$$\text{Arc Length} = \frac{\theta}{360} (\text{circumference of circle})$$

Another way to find given length is to think about unit π , where circumference. As you recalled that the given value in this previous activity, you determined that arc length is directly $\propto$ product of the circle's circumference and angle has represented in terms of π . This relationship can be summarized proportionally as circle of any given radius, r , is written

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{2\pi r} = \frac{\text{Degrees of Rotation}}{360}$$

Similarly, you determined a function that could be used to predict the arc length by a central angle in a circle of radius of given r .

$$\text{Arc Length for Length of Rotation} = \frac{\theta}{360} (\text{circumference of rotation})$$

As you recalled that for given radius the previous activity, you determined that, the arc length, area of rotation (or area swept) is proportional to the circle's circumference can be represented in terms of π . This relationship is summarized proportionally for a circle of any given radius, r is written

$$\frac{\text{Arc Length}}{2\pi r} = \frac{\text{Degrees of Rotation}}{360}$$

Example: (Based on previous activity and necessary.)

1. If the radius of a circle is 10 cm and the angle is 60 degrees, find the arc length and area of sector.
