reasoning the contributors to this volume suggest that reasoning about space can and should be successfully integrated with other forms of mathematics starting at the elementary level and continuing through high school Reintegrating spatial reasoning into the mathematical mainstream indeed placing it at the core of K 12 mathematics environments that promote learning with understanding will mean increased attention to problems in modeling structure and design and reinvigoration of traditional topics such as measure dimension and form Further the editors position is that the teaching of geometry and spatial visualization in school should not be compressed into a characterization of Greek geometry but should include attention to contributions to the mathematics of space that developed subsequent to those of the Greeks This volume is essential reading for those involved in mathematics education at all levels including university faculty researchers and graduate students

Teaching Junior High School Mathematics Harry Clark Barber,1924 This book is addressed to teacher and school officials and considers recent proposals for improvement in the content and teaching of arithmetic algebra and geometry It discusses the question whether it is possible to vie the children of these grades a broad and interesting view of the field of elementary mathematics without sacrificing sound scholarship Nearly all of the material presented here has been used repeatedly and effectively not only in defining the new mathematics in the minds of educators but also in giving them practical assistance in putting it into successful operation It may be of interest to all educators who deal with the problems of the mathematics from grade six through the high school and the pages on approximate computation may be of interest also to teachers of science Preface
