Oil Wealth and Development in Uganda and Beyond Arnim Langer, Ukoha Ukiwo, Pamela Mbabazi, 2020-01-07 Multidisciplinary perspectives to governance of oil in African countries. Large quantities of oil were discovered in the Albertine Rift Valley in Western Uganda in 2006. The sound management of these oil resources and revenues is undoubtedly one of the key public policy challenges for Uganda, as it is for other African countries with large oil and/or gas endowments. With oil expected to start flowing in 2021, the current book analyses how this East African country is preparing for the challenge of effectively, efficiently, and transparently managing its oil sector and resources. Adopting a multidisciplinary, comprehensive, and comparative approach, the book identifies a broad scope of issues that need to be addressed in order for Uganda to realise the full potential of its oil wealth for national economic transformation. Predominantly grounded in local scholarship and including chapters drawing on the experiences of Nigeria, Ghana, and Kenya, the book blazes a trail on governance of African oil in an era of emerging producers. Oil Wealth and Development in Uganda and Beyond will be of great interest to social scientists and economic and social policy makers in oil-producing countries. It is suitable for course adoption across such disciplines as International Global Affairs, Political Economy, Geography, Environmental Studies, Economics, Energy Studies, Development, Politics, Peace, Security, and African Studies.

Research Universities in Africa Cloete, Nico, Bunting, Ian, 2018-11-09 From the early 2000s a new discourse emerged in Africa and the international donor community that higher education was important for development in Africa Within this zeitgeist of converging interests a range of agencies agreed that a different collaborative approach to linking higher education to development was necessary This led to the establishment of the Higher Education Research and Advocacy Network in Africa Herana to concentrate on research and advocacy about the possible role and contribution of universities to development in Africa This book is the final publication to emerge from the Herana project The project has also published more than 100 articles chapters reports manuals and datasets and many presentations have been delivered to share insights gained from the work done by Herana Given its prolific dissemination it seems reasonable to ask whether this fourth and final publication will offer the reader anything new This book is certainly different from previous publications in several respects First it is the only book to include an analysis of eight African universities based on the full 15 years of empirical data collected by the project Second previous books and reports were published mid project This book has benefited from an extended gestation period allowing the authors and contributors to reflect on the project without the distractions associated with managing and participating in a large scale project For the first time some of those who have been involved in Herana since its inception have had the opportunity to at least make an attempt to see part of the wood for the trees Different does not necessarily mean new An emphasis on the newness of the data and perspectives presented in this book is important because it shows that it is more than a historical record of a donor funded project Rather each chapter in this book brings to a lesser or greater extent something new to our understanding of universities research and development in Africa
