Acknowledgement

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all the individuals and organizations who supported this project. Special thanks to my academic advisor for their guidance and encouragement throughout the study. I am also grateful to the community members of Malappuram for their cooperation and willingness to share their experiences. This project would not have been possible without the assistance of local NGOs and healthcare workers, who provided valuable insights into the health challenges faced by the community. I also wish to thank my family and friends for their continuous support and motivation. Finally, I acknowledge the use of various resources and tools that were instrumental in completing this study, including statistical software, health surveys, and academic literature.

Introduction

Malappuram, located in the southern state of Kerala, India, is a district characterized by its rich cultural heritage, agricultural economy, and diverse population. The district is home to a mix of rural and urban communities, with many residents engaged in agriculture, trade, and small-scale industries. Despite its relatively better socio-economic indicators compared to other regions in India, Malappuram faces significant health challenges, particularly in its rural areas. This study aims to assess the nutritional and health status of the people living in a selected village within Malappuram, focusing on identifying the key health problems, understanding the underlying causes, and exploring practical interventions to improve the community's well-being.

The study adopts a mixed-methods approach, combining quantitative surveys with qualitative interviews and focus group discussions. This approach provides a comprehensive understanding of the health and nutritional issues faced by the community. The village selected for this study was chosen based on criteria such as population size, economic activity, and accessibility to health services. Ethical considerations were taken into account to ensure the confidentiality and voluntary participation of all respondents. The study involved collaboration with local health officials, community leaders, and NGOs to facilitate data collection and program implementation.
