

اللہ کا ذکر کرتے رہا کرو
چاہے گھر میں ہو یا راستے میں
کیونکہ

جس چیز کے سامنے اللہ کا ذکر کرو گے
چاہے وہ پتھر، پھول، درخت یا کچھ بھی ہو
قیامت کے دن گواہی دے گی کہ
یا اللہ! تیرا یہ بندہ تیرے ذکر میں مشغول رہتا تھا۔

Islam and Mammon Timur Kuran, 2010-12-16 The doctrine of Islamic economics entered debates over the social role of Islam in the mid twentieth century Since then it has pursued the goal of restructuring economies according to perceived Islamic teachings Beyond its most visible practical achievement the establishment of Islamic banks meant to avoid interest it has promoted Islamic norms of economic behavior and founded redistribution systems modeled after early Islamic fiscal practices In this bold and timely critique Timur Kuran argues that the doctrine of Islamic economics is simplistic incoherent and largely irrelevant to present economic challenges Observing that few Muslims take it seriously he also finds that its practical applications have had no discernible effects on efficiency growth or poverty reduction Why then has Islamic economics enjoyed any appeal at all Kuran s answer is that the real purpose of Islamic economics has not been economic improvement but cultivation of a distinct Islamic identity to resist cultural globalization The Islamic subeconomies that have sprung up across the Islamic world are commonly viewed as manifestations of Islamic economics In reality Kuran demonstrates they emerged to meet the economic aspirations of socially marginalized groups The Islamic enterprises that form these subeconomies provide advancement opportunities to the disadvantaged By enhancing interpersonal trust they also facilitate intragroup transactions These findings raise the question of whether there exist links between Islam and economic performance Exploring these links in relation to the long unsettled question of why the Islamic world became underdeveloped Kuran identifies several pertinent social mechanisms some beneficial to economic development others harmful

Classical Traditions and Modern Meanings Stefan Sperl, 1996

Governance of Islam in Pakistan Sarah Holz, 2022-10-15 Modern states increasingly seek to regulate religious expression practice and discourse This is profoundly evident at many levels of Islamic policy interaction from debates about the banning of the Muslim face veil in Europe to civic re education programmes for Muslim citizens in China Governance of Islam in Pakistan provides a systematic account of how interactions between multiple public and private bodies direct the regulation and standardisation of Islam in one of the largest Muslim majority states in the world Analysis centres on the institutional development of the Council of Islamic Ideology a constitutional body tasked with issuing advice to the executive and legislature about the compatibility of laws with Islamic principles Based on archival material that has been subject to little scholarly attention and interviews with Council members and staff of other state bodies Sarah Holz proposes governance as an analytical framework to study the negotiation of religious expression practice and discourse In contrast to the established Islamisation narrative which generally labels such religious institutions as mere rubberstamps in the process of policy making the study of governance offers an alternative approach that enables examination of the dynamic competition and cooperation among multiple actors Through collective interaction the Council and other relevant bodies are active players in the governance of Islam Insights gained from analysis of the ideational structural and functional evolution of the Council offers a Global South perspective on liberal democratic ideas about the functionality of the modern state and its institutional structure Issues of economic cultural and local international political influence bear strongly in governance analysis Engagement with the governance policy tool has applicability across the social sciences but is particularly relevant for South Asian Near and Middle East Studies

The Classical Age of Islam Marshall G.S. Hodgson, 2009-05-15 The Venture of Islam has been honored as a magisterial work of the mind since its publication in early 1975 In this three volume study illustrated with charts and maps Hodgson traces and interprets the historical development of Islamic civilization from before the birth of Muhammad to the middle of the twentieth century This work grew out of the famous course on Islamic civilization that Hodgson created and taught for many years at the University of Chicago This is a nonpareil work not only because of its command of its subject but also because it demonstrates how ideally history should be written The New Yorker Volume 1 The Classical Age of Islam analyzes the world before Islam Muhammad s challenge and the early Muslim state between 625 and 692 Hodgson then discusses the classical civilization of the High Caliphate The volume also contains a general introduction to the complete work and a foreword by Reuben Smith who as Hodgson s colleague and friend finished the Venture of Islam after the author's death and saw it through to publication Globalized Islam Olivier Roy, 2004 A schism has emerged between mainstream Islamist movements in the Muslim world e.g. Hamas of Palestine and Hezbollah of Lebanon and the uprooted militants who strive to establish an imaginary ummah or Muslim community not embedded in any particular society or territory Roy provides a detailed comparison of these transnational movements whether peaceful like Tablighi Jamaat and the Islamic brotherhoods or violent like Al Qaeda Neofundamentalism he argues is both a product and an agent of globalization
