Mind The Gap Grade 12 Business Studies:

Mind the Gap Peter Kappeler, Joan Silk, 2009-11-09 This volume features a collection of essays by primatologists anthropologists biologists and psychologists who offer some answers to the question of what makes us human i e what is the nature and width of the gap that separates us from other primates The chapters of this volume summarize the latest research on core aspects of behavioral and cognitive traits that make humans such unusual animals All contributors adopt an explicitly comparative approach which is based on the premise that comparative studies of our closest biological relatives the nonhuman primates provide the logical foundation for identifying human univ sals as well as evidence for evolutionary continuity in our social behavior Each of the chapters in this volume provides comparative analyses of relevant data from primates and humans or pairs of chapters examine the same topic from a human or primatological perspective respectively Together they cover six broad topics that are relevant to identifying potential human behavioral universals Family and social organization Predation pressure is thought to be the main force favoring group living in primates but there is great diversity in the size and structure of social groups across the primate order Research on the behavioral ecology of primates and other animals has revealed that the distribution of males and females in space and time can be explained by sex speci c adaptations that are sensitive to factors that limit their tness access to resources for females and access to potential mates for males

Canadian Education Brenda L. Spencer, Kenneth D. Gariepy, Kari Dehli, James Ryan, 2012-10-17 Canadian Education Governing Practices and Producing Subjects is an absolutely critical volume bridging a number of key areas in Canadian education classroom politics schools teachers work higher education and much more with the theoretical contributions of Michel Foucault The result is illuminating engaging and critically provocative The essays are carefully chosen and utilize Foucauldian concepts such as governmentality discipline subjectivity and genealogy to excellent critical effect With a skillfully crafted introduction that nicely brings the entire collection into sharp focus the editors have provided a text that is a must read for critical scholars and students alike Mona Gleason Department of Educational Studies University of British Columbia This excellent text presents a Foucauldian analysis of selected educational practices contemporary reform initiatives and current educational policy in the Canadian context The authors demonstrate how rich theoretical constructs such as bio power governmentality and disciplinary power can illuminate everyday practices and policies making the cultural unconscious apparent Foucault 1989 p 71 Canadian Education Governing Practices and Producing Subjects is essentially a hopeful book it demonstrates the radicalizing role of theory as we try to understand and complicate educational structures and processes This is an essential text for all those interested in Foucauldian analyses of education and a must read for undergraduate and graduate students in Canadian faculties of education Anne M Phelan University of British Columbia This volume is most useful in the ways in which it achieves a close look and a wide sweep of education policy its deployment and its effects as these are embedded in schooling practices educational strategies and pedagogy It offers the ground from which to consider the potential for education to be aimed at the development of a socially just citizenry while also helping to reveal the structures of power and processes of social control that operate within current neoliberal technologies of governmentality. It is against these that reform minded educators and curriculum and policy developers can set themselves. While theoretically complex and original in its conceptual approach this book is also practically informative and eminently readable making it useful to teachers school administrators education policy developers parents students and communities at all levels of the schooling spectrum.
