My Childhood Memories That Changed My Life

I believe that anything can be achieved through doing hard work. I found this to be true not only through looking at people who are around me but also through personal experience. I started believing in this after many trials and fails I faced throughout my childhood. No matter how many stupid things I did, I never even thought of getting better.

As a child I wasn't raised in a bad neighborhood, I got into a lot of trouble almost everyday and it had somehow found me. Whether or not it was me getting in trouble at home or at school, I wasn't heading the path that I had to. I didn't know what I wanted in life and who I wanted to be in the future but what I knew is that I wanted to be successful but I didn't know how I was going to get there. That's when I was introduced to my dad's friend who was convicted of a felony. He told me his story about how he ended up in prison.

It started back in his childhood, he wasn't the greatest child, he always got in trouble. No matter what his friends and parents told him not to do, he always did the opposite. Skipping to his senior year in college, he got arrested a bunch of times and later on in his life he got in prison for a long time. When he got out of prison he decided that he needs to change his life in a good way and start making good choices. He began working hard everyday to show himself that he is better than that, got a family and lives happy.

Since that day, I decided to myself that I don't want to be arrested or end up in prison for doing stupid things. I began working hard everyday on my behavior and choices that I had to make. Every morning I started to wake up and say to myself that "Who am I if I don't do good stuff in life?" I started thinking of people around me and how my behavior reflects on them, not only am I hurting myself but I'm also hurting people around me.

After a while I began noticing that I'm doing much better, I'm feeling better not only about myself but also about things that I do. People around me also started noticing that. My parents always kept telling me that if you want people to act good towards you, you have to act good towards them but I never listened to them. Now that I've changed my life and I get what they were talking about.

That story about my dad's friend fixing his life after prison gave me a push in a positive direction for my life to change forever. I had support from my family and friends and thank all of them for sticking around with me.

Rocking Your World: The Emotional Journey into Critical Discourses, 2008-01-01 Rocking Your World The Emotional Journey into Critical Discourses is an introductory text that emerged from the belief that we often learn best through personal narrative and story This collection of real stories connects critical theory and critical pedagogy with personal transformation It is an experiential primer in how to navigate a developing appreciation of how silent and sometimes not so silent machinations of power align themselves along axes of gender race class sexual orientation and global position amongst others to both conceal and perpetuate injustice and oppression In this book twelve authors share personal reflections of how various critical discourse communities have impacted their lives They explore a range of professional family and social barriers to personal growth as teachers professional researchers and everyday people they give us glimpses into the impact of positionality the balance between activism and intellectual rigor the obstacles to teaching critically and more This book would be an ideal complement to traditional texts and would provide countless opportunities to generate the kind of personal introspection and dialogue that can make studying critical pedagogy and other critical discourses a transformative experience It is a must read for any teacher or student interested in the power of critical theories to transform how we see the world in which we live

Migrant Nation Paul Longley Arthur, 2017-12-15 Focusing on particular historical blind spots by telling stories of individuals and groups that did not fit the favoured identity mould the essays in Migrant Nation work within the gap between Australian image and experience and offer fresh insights into the other side of identity construction The volume casts light on the hidden face of Australian identity and remembers the experiences of a wide variety of people who have generally been excluded neglected or simply forgotten in the long running quest to tell a unified story of Australian culture and identity

Drawing upon memories letters interviews and documentary fragments as well as rich archives the authors have in common a commitment to give life to neglected histories and thus to include in an expanding and open ended national narrative people who were cast as strangers in the place that was their home

The Postmodern Short Story Farhat Iftekharrudin, Joseph Boyden, Mary Rohrberger, Jaie Claudet, 2003-12-30 Short stories are usually defined in terms of characteristics of modernism in which the story begins in the middle develops according to a truncated plot and ends with an epiphany This approach tends to ignore postmodernism a movement often characterized by a negation of objective reality where plots are seemingly abandoned surfaces are extraordinary and symbols turn inward on themselves This book examines postmodern forms and characteristic themes by analyzing a group of short stories that make use of postmodern narrative strategies including nonfictional fiction gender profiling and death as an image The volume begins with a discussion of the blurred lines between fiction and nonfiction in the short story and imaginative personal essay It then looks at the role of women in works by such authors as Sandra Cisneros Leslie Marmon Silko Joyce Carol Oates and Lorrie Moore This is followed by a section of chapters on postmodern masculinity and short fiction The next section focuses on death as an image and theme in works by Richard Ford Richard Brautigan and James Joyce The final set of chapters considers postmodern short fiction from South Africa and Canada
