Aunt Hilda Bock and the Red Snapper Inn Mary Tucker, 2012-10-01 The life of young Kelly Jane is turned upside down when her Aunt Hilda Bock comes to stay Kelly Jane is ten and a half years old and thinks that life can't get any worse The kids at school don't like her her teacher is mad with her and even the school principal thinks she's a loser And then Kelly Jane's Aunt Hilda Bock from Humpty Doo arrives and everything changes She even has to share her bedroom with her crazy aunt But when she is given a special amulet to hang around her neck Kelly Jane begins to wonder if Aunt Hilda Bock has special magical powers Can she solve Kelly Jane's problems And what is the secret of the Red Snapper Inn Aunt

Hilda Bock and the Red Snapper Inn is a wonderfully creative children's tale from much loved writer MARY TUCKER The Palgrave Handbook of Animals and Literature Susan McHugh, Robert McKay, John Miller, 2020-11-25 This volume is the first comprehensive guide to current research on animals, animality and human-animal relations in literature. To reflect the history of literary animal studies to date, its primary focus is literary prose and poetry in English, while also accommodating emergent discussions of the full range of media and contexts with which literary studies engages, especially film and critical theory. User-friendly language, references, even suggestions for further readings are included to help newcomers to the field understand how it has taken shape primarily through recent decades. To further aid teachers, sections are organized by conventions of periodization and chapters address a range of canonical and popular texts. Bookended by sections devoted to the field's conceptual foundations and new directions, the volume is designed to set an agenda for literary animal studies for decades to come. Animals in Translation Temple Grandin, Catherine Johnson, 2009-08-11 Now with a Q & A and new foreword by the author. With unique personal insight, experience and hard science, Animals in Translation is the definitive groundbreaking work on animal behavior and psychology. Temple Grandin's professional training as an animal scientist and her history as a person with autism have given her a perspective like that of no other expert in the field of animal science. Grandin and coauthor Catherine Johnson present their powerful theory that autistic people can often think the way animals think, putting autistic people in the perfect position to translate animal talk. Exploring animal pain, fear, aggression, love, friendship, communication, learning, and even animal genius, Grandin is a faithful guide into their world. Animals in Translation reveals that animals are much smarter than anyone ever imagined, and Grandin, standing at the intersection of autism and animals, offers unparalleled observations and extraordinary ideas about both. Chocolate Chip Cookies and a Wired Dog Peter Prosser, 2005-11 Is it a strange, surly memoir? Maybe it's really a work of autobiographical fiction. Perhaps it's just the ravings of a dumb little punk. Whatever you might call it, one thing is certain: this book is a trip through one person's life experience. What's the point? Read it and find out for yourself. The Other Side of I Do Kathi Lengyel, 2019-04-30 Tom and I were married on a warm, sunny day in August, amidst family, friends, flowers, and live music. It was a small affair with hors d'oeuvres, champagne, and cake. The ceremony took place at the same riverfront restaurant where we shared our first date. Afterward, we sailed off into the sunset on a friend's boat. Twenty-nine years later, how could this man have died after an eighteen-month battle with colon cancer? Prior to his disease, he had always been the healthy one. Tom loved camping, hiking, biking, and racket ball. He even came to aerobics with me, often being the only man in the class. The Other Side of I Do is a journal that documents the emotional highs and lows following Tom's death. Often, writing in my journal was the only thing that made sense during the early days of being a widow. Interspersed throughout are flashbacks to the life we lived, as well as dramatic vignettes documenting his diagnosis and treatment. Animal Narratives and Culture Anna Barcz, 2017-03-07 The term vulnerable realism can imply two different understandings: one presenting weak realism as incomplete and mixed with other literary styles the other bringing realistic vulnerable experience into narration The second is the key concern of this work though it does not exclude the first as it asks questions about realism as such entering into a polemic with the tradition of literary realism Realism then is not primarily understood as a narrative style but as a narration that tests the probability of nonhuman vulnerable experience and makes it real The book consists of three parts The first presents examples of how realism has been redefined in trauma studies and how it may refer to animal experience The second explores what is added to the narrative by literature including the animal perspective the zoonarrative and how it is conducted zoocriticism The third analyses cultural texts such as painting circuses and memorials which realistically generate animal vulnerability and provide non anthropocentric frameworks anchoring our knowledge in the experience of fragile historical reality Pet Projects

Elizabeth Young,2019-12-17 In Pet Projects Elizabeth Young joins an analysis of the representation of animals in nineteenth century fiction taxidermy and the visual arts with a first person reflection on her own scholarly journey Centering on Margaret Marshall Saunders a Canadian woman writer once famous for her animal novels and incorporating Young's own experience of a beloved animal's illness this study highlights the personal and intellectual stakes of a pet project of cultural criticism Young assembles a broad archive of materials beginning with Saunders's novels and widening outward to include fiction nonfiction photography and taxidermy She coins the term first dog voice to describe the narrative technique of novels such as Saunders's Beautiful Joe written in the first person from the perspective of an animal She connects this voice to contemporary political issues revealing how animal fiction such as Saunders's reanimates nineteenth century writing about both feminism and slavery Highlighting the prominence of taxidermy in the late nineteenth century she suggests that Saunders transforms taxidermic techniques in surprising ways that provide new forms of authority for women Young adapts Freud to analyze literary representations of mourning by and for animals and she examines how Canadian writers including Saunders use animals to explore race ethnicity and national identity Her wide ranging investigation incorporates twenty first as well as nineteenth century works of literature and culture including recent art using taxidermy and contemporary film Throughout she reflects on the tools she uses to craft her analyses examining the state of scholarly fields from feminist criticism to animal studies With a lively first person voice that highlights experiences usually concealed in academic studies by scholarly discourse such as detours zigzags roadblocks and personal experience this unique and innovative book will delight animal enthusiasts and academics in the fields of animal studies gender studies American studies and Canadian studies Fun ,1881 New Paths in Theatre Translation and Surtitling Vasiliki Misiou,Loukia Kostopoulou,2023-08-09

This collection provides an in depth exploration of surtitling for theatre and its potential in enhancing accessibility and creativity in both the production and reception of theatrical performances The volume collects the latest research on surtitling which encompasses translating lyrics or sections of dialogue and projecting them on a screen While most work has focused on opera this book showcases how it has increasingly played a role in theatre by examining examples from well known festivals and performances The 11 chapters underscore how the hybrid nature and complex semiotic modes of theatrical texts coupled with technological advancements offer a plurality of possibilities for applying surtitling effectively across different contexts The book calls attention to the ways in which agents in theatrical spaces need to carefully reflect on the role of surtitling in order to best serve the needs of diverse audiences and produce inclusive productions from translators considering appropriate strategies to directors working on how to creatively employ it in performance to companies looking into all means available for successful implementation Offering a space for interdisciplinary dialogues on surtitling in theatre this book will be of interest to scholars in audiovisual translation media accessibility and theatre and performance studies
