The Sustainability Class

Vijay Kolinjivadi, Aaron Vansintjan, 2024-12-10

An original argument that environmental sustainability has been co opted by the urban elite along with examples from around the world of ways we can save our planet Caring for the environment means reclaiming ecology for everyone from the introduction A sustainability apartheid is emerging More than ever urban residents want to be green yet to cater to their interests a green tech service economy has sprung up co opting well intentioned concerns over sustainability to sell a resource heavy and exclusive lifestyle environmentalism This has made cities more unsustainable and inaccessible to the working class The Sustainability Class is about those wealthy progressive urbanites convinced that we can save the planet through individual action smart urbanism green finance and technological innovation Authors Vijay Kolinjivadi and Aaron Vansintjan challenge many of the popular ideas about environmentalism showing that it is actually the sustainability class itself that is unsustainable The solutions they propose work to safeguard an elite minority exclude billions of people and ultimately hasten ecological breakdown not reverse it From Venice Beach Los Angeles to Neom in Saudi Arabia and beyond the authors explore with biting humor how investors around the world are rushing to capitalize on going green By contrast real world examples of movements for housing and food production transport and waste management demonstrate how ordinary people around the world are building a more ecological future by working together against all odds In doing so they show us how sustainability can be reclaimed for everyone Sustainability isn t about vibes and superficial green facades It's about building people power to reimagine the world

The State of Food Security and Nutrition in the World 2023 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, International Fund for Agricultural Development, United Nations Children's Fund, World Food Programme, World Health Organization, 2023-07-12 This report provides an update on global progress towards the targets of ending hunger SDG Target 2.1 and all forms of malnutrition SDG Target 2.2 and estimates on the number of people who are unable to afford a healthy diet Since its 2017 edition this report has repeatedly highlighted that the intensification and interaction of conflict climate extremes and economic slowdowns and downturns combined with highly unaffordable nutritious foods and growing inequality are pushing us off track to meet the SDG 2 targets However other important megatrends must also be factored into the analysis to fully understand the challenges and opportunities for meeting the SDG 2 targets One such megatrend and the focus of this year's report is urbanization New evidence shows that food purchases in some countries are no longer high only among urban households but also among rural households Consumption of highly processed foods is also increasing in peri urban and rural areas of some countries These changes are affecting people's food security and nutrition in ways that differ depending on where they live across the rural urban continuum This timely and relevant theme is aligned with the United Nations General Assembly endorsed New Urban Agenda and the report provides recommendations on the policies investments and actions needed to address the challenges of agrifood systems transformation under urbanization and to enable opportunities for ensuring access to affordable healthy diets for everyone

The Meritocracy Trap Daniel Markovits, 2020-09-08 A revolutionary new argument from eminent Yale Law professor Daniel Markovits attacking the false promise of meritocracy It is an axiom of American life that advantage should be earned through ability and effort Even as the country divides itself at every turn the meritocratic ideal that social and economic rewards should follow achievement rather than breeding reigns supreme Both Democrats and Republicans insistently repeat meritocratic notions Meritocracy cuts to the heart of who we are It sustains the American dream But what if both up and down the social ladder meritocracy is a sham Today meritocracy has become exactly what it was conceived to resist a mechanism for the concentration and dynastic transmission of wealth and privilege across generations Upward mobility has become a fantasy and the embattled middle classes are now more likely to sink into the working poor than to rise into the professional elite At the same time meritocracy now ensnares even those who manage to claw their way to the top requiring rich adults to work with crushing intensity exploiting their expensive educations in order to extract a return All this is not the result of deviations or retreats from meritocracy but rather stems directly from meritocracy's successes This is the radical argument that Daniel Markovits prosecutes with rare force Markovits is well placed to expose the sham of meritocracy Having spent his life at elite universities he knows from the inside the corrosive system we are trapped within Markovits also knows that if we understand that meritocratic inequality produces near universal harm we can cure it When The Meritocracy Trap reveals the inner workings of the meritocratic machine it also illuminates the first steps outward towards a new world that might once again afford dignity and prosperity to the American people
