A Socio-political Study of Rohinton Mistry's "Fine Balance" Giuseppina Pagano, 2004 New Critical Approaches to Indian English Fiction O. P. Mathur, 2001

Speaking Havoc Ramu Nagappan, 2005 Who has the right to speak about trauma? As cultural products, narratives of social suffering paradoxically release us from responsibility while demanding that we examine our own connectedness to the circumstances that produce suffering. As a result, the text's act of speaking havoc rebounds in unsettling ways. Speaking Havoc investigates how literary and cinematic fictions intervene in the politics and reception of social suffering. Amitav Ghosh's modernist novel The Shadow Lines (1988), A Fine Balance (1995) by Rohinton Mistry, the short stories of Saadat Hasan Manto, Salman Rushdie's postmodernist novel Shame (1983), and the spectacular films of Maniratnam each bear witness to social violence in South Asia. These works confront squarely a number of ethical dilemmas in representations of social suffering: the catastrophes and innumerable minor tragedies that arise from clashes among religious and ethnic communities; focusing on central events such as the Partition of 1947, the assassination of Indira Gandhi in 1984, and more recent religious conflicts.

between India and Pakistan Nagappan demonstrates the differing ways that narratives engage often in ambiguous and problematic ways the political violence that has marked the last fifty years of South Asian history Is it possible to tell fully the stories of those who have died and those who have survived Can writing really act as a counter to silence In his compassionate engagement with these concerns Nagappan demonstrates the relevance of literature and literary studies to fundamental sociological anthropological and political issues With its interdisciplinary scope historical perspective and lucid style Speaking Havoc is destined to become a foundational text for scholars of South Asian studies and postcolonial and cultural studies and for readers interested in trauma and social suffering as well as in the literature films and histories that take this field as their topic NOVELS FOR STUDENTS CENGAGE LEARNING.
