Gábor Gergely, Susan Hayward

Midlands State University Application Deadline For August 2015:

Financialising City Statecraft and Infrastructure Andy Pike, Peter O'Brien, Tom Strickland, John Tomaney, 2019

Financialising City Statecraft and Infrastructure addresses the struggles of national and local states to fund finance and govern urban infrastructure. It develops fresh thinking on financialisation and city statecraft to explain the socially and spatially uneven mixing of managerial entrepreneurial and financialised city governance in austerity and limited decentralisation across England. As urban infrastructure fixes for the London global city region risk undermining national rebalancing efforts in the UK, city statecraft in the rest of the country is having uneasily to combine speculation risk taking and prospective venturing with co ordination planning and regulation.

Art and Sovereignty in Global Politics Douglas Howland, Elizabeth Lillehoj, Maximilian Mayer, 2016-12-01 This volume aims to question challenge supplement and revise current understandings of the relationship between aesthetic and political operations. The authors transcend disciplinary boundaries and nurture a wide ranging sensibility about art and sovereignty two highly complex and interwoven dimensions of human experience that have rarely been explored by scholars in one conceptual space. Several chapters consider the intertwining of modern philosophical currents and modernist artistic forms in particular those revealing formal abstraction stylistic experimentation self conscious expression and resistance to traditional definitions of Art. Other chapters deal with currents that emerged as facets of art became increasingly commercialized merging with industrial design and popular entertainment industries. Some contributors address Post Modernist art and theory highlighting power relations and providing sceptical critical commentary on repercussions of colonialism and notions of universal truths rooted in Western ideals. By interfering with established dichotomies and unsettling stable debates related to art and sovereignty all contributors frame new perspectives on the co constitution of artworks and practices of sovereignty.

Football, Fandom and Collective Memory Przemysław Nosal, Radosław Kossakowski, Wojciech Woźniak, 2024-06-18 This book examines the topic of identity and collective memory in football fandom. Drawing on global research in history sociology and political science the book looks at how where and why football fans and supporters groups introduce particular role models into their self identity and performative narratives. The book presents original cutting edge research that illustrates the complex multidimensional nature of the re formulation of collective memory and the elevation of role models. It looks at the processes by which some supporters groups celebrate historical and contemporary figures including political leaders warriors revolutionaries or armed resistance groups that they believe embody patriotic regional or nationalist virtues as well as supporters groups who define their patriotism in opposition to these figures. The book presents cases ranging from Ukrainian football ultras in the shadow of Russian aggression and Jewish role models in Germany's collective football memory to the symbology of Che Guevara and Diego Maradona in Brazilian and Argentinian football to hero formation and the myths of national identity in Australian football. This is fascinating reading for anybody with an interest in the sociology culture or politics of sport or in fandom identity nationalism more broadly in sociology political science or history Local Economic and Employment Development (LEED) Engaging Employers in Apprenticeship Opportunities Making It Happen Locally

OECD,International Labour Organization,2017-06-16 This joint OECD ILO publication provides guidance on how local and regional governments can foster business education partnerships in apprenticeship programmes and other types of work based learning drawing on case studies across nine countries Forces Shaping Community College Missions Kristin

Bailey Wilson,Regina L. Garza Mitchell,2018-01-24 Historically community colleges have served societal and functional missions that expanded over time with the result of trying to achieve multiple goals for multiple audiences This volume explores the forces currently shaping community college missions and the resulting tension between stated goals assumed goals and achievement of those goals In an era of increasing accountability tighter coupling and the need to do ever more with fewer resources mission focus is vital to college survival Explore such issues as the unspoken social contract transfer developmental education noncredit education dual enrollment workforce development the free college movement and planning for the future The topics are explored thoughtfully from both scholarly and practical perspectives highlighting the forces that shape community college missions This is the 180th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Essential to the professional libraries of presidents vice presidents deans and other leaders in today s open door institutions New Directions for Community Colleges provides expert guidance in meeting the challenges of their distinctive and expanding educational mission General International Law in International Investment Law ,2024-01-27 General international law is part and parcel of investor state arbitration This is the case not only regarding treaty law and state responsibility but also with respect to matters such as state succession the international minimum standard and state immunity all of which feature regularly in investor state arbitration Yet although general international law issues arise in almost every investment case and often require extensive research no systematic exploration of the relationship between the two exists This Commentary is the first to fill this gap providing a comprehensive treatment of the role of general international law in international investment law It engages in detail with central matters of general international law including in the practice of investment arbitration tribunals moving beyond existing works which focus solely on procedural and institutional provisions The Commentary s forty six chapters do not focus on a single source or subject Instead each concentrates on a specific relevant article from a particular source of public law such as the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties 1969 or the International Law Commission s Articles on the Responsibility of States for Internationally Wrongful Acts 2001 among others The entries combine detailed analysis with an examination of procedural and substantive aspects such as nationality and unjust enrichment and respond to the following questions how have investment tribunals interpreted and applied the specific rule of general international law To what extent and why does such interpretation and application align with or deviate from the practice by other international courts or tribunals How could and should investment tribunals interpret and apply rules that have yet to feature in investment arbitration This unique format means this commentary will serve as a central guide for all relevant case law and scholarship on international investment law Climate Change as Political Catastrophe Ross Mittiga, 2024-01-24 There is now clear scientific consensus that without immediate and decisive action the world risks climate catastrophe This has fueled climate emergency declarations among activist groups and increasingly among local state and supranational governments But what exactly counts as a climate catastrophe and what does catastrophic climate change portend for contemporary societies This book argues that climate change is politically catastrophic insofar as it threatens to undermine the material conditions that make justice and by extension stable democratic government possible It then uses the lens of catastrophe to bring into focus pressing questions concerning how to navigate trade offs between fairness and precautionary efficacy in the design of climate policy the permissibility of authoritarian climate emergency powers and the nature and role of climate disobedience Apart perhaps from the spectre of nuclear annihilation human civilization has never had to reckon with a threat so final and encompassing as that of climate catastrophe Much as some have argued that supreme necessity alters the contours of what is permissible in war this book starts from the premise that the credible threat of politically catastrophic climate change upends many of the most basic and widely shared assumptions in liberal and democratic thought Failures in Health and Social Care Neil Small, 2023-06-30 This thought provoking book examines breakdowns in the quality of health and social care over the past decade exploring governance failures and the challenges of achieving lasting change Failures in care have been manifest across many different settings Drawing on examples from care of older people and end of life care as well as from learning disabilities mental health maternity care and services for vulnerable children Neil Small shows that the same sorts of problems are evident across these settings and that they are occurring up to the present day Discussing culture change alongside levels of funding and the impact of prevailing political and economic orthodoxies and through the lens of shifts of trust in society this book argues that the concept of culture must be cast much wider than organisational and professional cultures if change is to be secured This book engages with how to improve quality of care in the NHS and welfare systems more generally Its case examples are from the UK but the issues of governance culture change and shifts in the social contract that failures illuminate have an international relevance It is important reading for those with an interest in health social care political science and sociology The Routledge Companion to European Cinema Gábor Gergely, Susan Hayward, 2021-12-29 Presenting new and diverse scholarship this wide ranging collection of 43 original chapters asks what European cinema tells us about Europe The book engages with European cinema that attends to questions of European colonial racialized and gendered power seeks to decentre Europe itself not merely its putative centres and interrogate Europe s various conceptualizations from a variety of viewpoints It explores the broad complex and heterogeneous community ies produced in and by European films taking in Kurdish Hollywood and Singapore cinema as comfortably as the cinema of Poland Spanish colonial films or the European gangster genre Chapters cover numerous topics including individual films film movements filmmakers stars scholarship representations and identities audiences production practices genres and more all analysed in their context s so as to construct an image of Europe as it emerges from Europe s film corpus The Companion opens the study of European cinema to a broad readership and is ideal for students and scholars in film European studies queer studies and cultural studies as well as historians with an interest in audio visual culture nationalism and transnationalism and those working in language based area studies
