Manual Ps Vita:

Byzantine Military Manuals as Literary Works and Practical Handbooks Georgios Chatzelis, 2019-01-22 This book studies the Sylloge Tacticorum an important tenth century Byzantine military manual The text is used as a case study to connect military manuals with the challenges that Byzantium faced in its wars with the Arabs but also with other aspects of Byzantine society such as education politics and conventions in the productions of literary texts and historical narratives The book explores when the Sylloge was written and by whom It identifies which passages from classical or earlier works were incorporated in the Sylloge and explains the reason why Byzantines imitated works of the past The book then studies the extent to which the Sylloge was original and how innovation and originality were received in Byzantine society Despite the imitation the author of the Sylloge adapted and updated his material to reflect the current operational needs as well as the ideological cultural and religious context of his time Finally the book attempts to estimate the extent to which Byzantine generals followed the advice of military manuals and to explore whether historical narratives can be safely used to draw information as to how the Byzantines and the Arabs fought Therefore along with a detailed study of the Sylloge Tacticorum this monograph also addresses broader issues of the pen and the sword such as military manuals in connection with politics of execution The main text is a manual translated in English for the first time on how to comfort a man in his last hours before beheading or hanging It became an influential text used across Renaissance Italy A second lengthy piece gives an eyewitness account of the final hours of two patrician Florentines executed for conspiracy against the Medici in 1512 Shorter pieces include poems written by prisoners on the eve of their execution songs sung by the condemned and their comforters and popular broadsheets reporting on particular executions It is richly illustrated with the small panel paintings that were thrust into prisoners faces to distract them as they made the public journey to the gallows Six interdisciplinary essays explain the contexts and meanings of these writings and of execution rituals generally They explore the relation of execution rituals to late medieval street theater the use of art to comfort the condemned the literature that issued from prisons by the hands of condemned prisoners the theological issues around public executions in the Renaissance the psychological dimensions of the comforting process and some of the social political and historical dimensions of executions and comforting in Renaissance Italy
