Sustainability, Green IT and Education Strategies in the Twenty-first Century Tomayess Issa, Pedro Isaias, Theodora Issa, 2017-07-26 This work presents and discusses the latest approaches and strategies for implementing Sustainability and Green IT into higher education and business environments Following the global financial crisis in 2007 2008 businesses began to struggle coping with the increased IT IS cost and their environmental footprint As a consequence action by universities to incorporate sustainability and Green IT as parts of their teaching and learning materials acknowledging their importance for global and local businesses is being increasingly implemented The book addresses the cooperation and coordination between academics and practitioners needed in order to achieve the changes required to obtain sustainability Intended for researchers lecturers and post graduate students as well as professionals in the Information Society and ICT and education sectors and policy makers Multicultural Awareness and Technology in Higher Education: Global Perspectives Issa, Tomayess, Isaias, Pedro, Kommers, Piet, 2014-03-31 Diversity among university students plays a significant role in raising awareness of numerous issues surrounding cultural heritage language differences cross cultural collaboration and international education The integration of technological tools can assist students in cooperating nationally and internationally both in their current educational and future professional settings Multicultural Awareness and Technology in Higher Education Global Perspectives encompasses the latest research on the impact and integration of technology into international education and culturally diverse learning environments Providing the latest teaching and learning methods technologies and approaches at the university level this publication is a useful reference for academics educational administrators in public and private institutions and information society researchers New Science of Learning Myint Swe Khine, Issa M. Saleh, 2010-06-16 The earliest educational software simply transferred print material from the page to the monitor Since then the Internet and other digital media have brought students an ever expanding low cost knowledge base and the opportunity to interact with minds around the globe while running the risk of shortening their attention spans isolating them from interpersonal contact and subjecting them to information overload The New Science of Learning Cognition Computers and Collaboration in Education deftly explores the multiple relationships found among these critical elements in students increasingly complex and multi paced educational experience Starting with instructors insights into the cognitive effects of digital media a diverse range of viewpoints with little consensus this cutting edge resource acknowledges the double edged potential inherent in computer based education and its role in shaping students thinking capabilities Accordingly the emphasis is on strategies that maximize the strengths and compensate for the negative aspects of digital learning including Group cognition as a foundation for learning Metacognitive control of learning and remembering Higher education course development using open education resources Designing a technology oriented teacher professional development model Supporting student collaboration with digital video tools Teaching and learning through social annotation practices The New Science of Learning Cognition Computers and Collaboration in Education brings emerging challenges and innovative ideas into sharp focus for researchers in educational psychology instructional design education technologies and the learning sciences Educational, Psychological, and Behavioral Considerations in Niche Online Communities

Venkatesh, Vivek, Wallin, Jason, Castro, Juan Carlos, Lewis, Jason Edward, 2014-02-28 Online communities continue to evolve as more people take on a virtual presence This shift in online communities and the diversity of individuals populating the web has allowed for the emergence of virtual communities centered on niche topics of interests ranging from heavy metal music to indigenous and native culture Educational Psychological and Behavioral Considerations in Niche Online Communities examines the presence of online communities centered around niche topics of interest and the impact of these virtual spaces on community members Taking perspectives from interdisciplinary fields such as sociology psychology and education this publication will appeal to educators psychologists behaviorists students and researchers interested in the impact of virtual communities on individuals as well as the opportunities these online communities present Attitude Research in Science Education Dr. Issa M. Saleh, Dr. Myint Swe Khine, 2011-02-01 The research into how students attitudes affect their learning of science related subjects has been one of the core areas of interest by science educators The development in science education records various attempts in measuring attitudes and determining the correlations between behavior achievements career aspirations gender identity and cultural inclination Some researchers noted that attitudes can be learned and teachers can encourage students to like science subjects through persuasion But some view that attitude is situated in context and has much to do with upbringing and environment The critical role of attitude is well recognized in advancing science education in particular designing curriculum and choosing powerful pedagogies and nurturing students Since Noll s 1935 seminal work on measuring the scientific attitudes a steady stream of research papers describing the development and validation of scales have appeared in scholarly publications Despite these efforts the progress in this area has been stagnated by limited understanding of the conception of attitude dimensionality and inability to determine the multitude of variables that made up such concept This book makes an attempt to take stock and critically examine classical views on science attitudes and explore contemporary attempts in measuring science related attitudes The chapters in this book are a reflection of researchers who work tirelessly in promoting science education and highlight the current trends and future scenarios in attitude measurement International Handbook of Early Childhood Education Marilyn Flear, Bert van Oers, 2017-10-10 This international handbook gives a comprehensive overview of findings from longstanding and contemporary research theory and practices in early childhood education in the Northern and Southern hemispheres The first volume of the handbook addresses theory methodology and the research activities and research needs of particular regions The second volume examines in detail innovations and longstanding programs curriculum and assessment and conceptions and research into child family and communities The two volumes of this handbook address the current theory methodologies and research needs of specific countries and provide insight into existing global similarities in early childhood practices By paying special attention to what is happening in the larger world contexts the volumes provide a representative overview of early childhood education practices and research and redress the current North South imbalance of published work on the subject

Approaches and Strategies in Next Generation Science Learning Khine, Myint Swe, 2013-01-31 Approaches and Strategies in Next Generation Science Learning examines the challenges involved in the development of modern curriculum models teaching strategies and assessments in science education in order to prepare future students in the 21st century economies This comprehensive collection of research brings together science educators researchers and administrators interested in enhancing the teaching and learning of next generation science Technology Driven Curriculum for 21st Century Higher Education Students in Africa Meda, Lawrence, Makura, Alfred H., 2017-08-16 The book consists of novel and empirical research in broad areas of technology and curriculum in selected African countries The central theme of the book is technology and the higher education curriculum The book consists of case studies from selected African countries namely Lesotho Namibia Kenya South Africa Zimbabwe Tanzania and Nigeria These studies confirm that in this contemporary digital era educational technology is playing an increasingly important role It has become so ubiquitous and fundamental in the teaching and learning Higher education sectors across the continent are increasingly compelled to use educational technology to keep up with needs of 21st century students who want to be afforded opportunities to be able to learn in real time anytime and on their own terms using opportunities for creative innovation made possible by new information and communication technologies *Report of ISSA ...
