decoration a reflection of both newer trends and traditional scholarship in the field The variety is also a reflection of Professor Curcic's wide interests which he shares with his students These include the analysis of recent archaeological discoveries recovery of lost monuments through archival research and onsite examination of material remains reconsidering traditional typological approaches often ignored in current scholarship fresh interpretations of architectural features and designs contextualization of monuments within the landscape tracing historiographic trends and mining neglected written sources for motives of patronage The papers also range broadly in terms of chronology and geography from the Early Christian through the post Byzantine period and from Italy to Armenia Three papers examine Early Christian monuments and of these two expand the inquiry into their architectural afterlives Others discuss later monuments in Byzantine territory and monuments in territories related to Byzantium such as Serbia Armenia and Norman Italy No Orthodox church being complete without interior decoration two papers discuss issues connected to frescoes in late medieval Balkan churches Finally one study investigates the continued influence of Byzantine palace architecture long after the fall of Constantinople

Eclecticism in Late Medieval Visual Culture at the Crossroads of the Latin, Greek, and Slavic Traditions Maria Alessia Rossi, Alice Isabella Sullivan, 2021-11-22 This volume builds upon the new worldwide interest in the global Middle Ages It investigates the prismatic heritage and eclectic artistic production of Eastern Europe between the fourteenth and seventeenth centuries while challenging the temporal and geographical parameters of the study of medieval Byzantine post Byzantine and early modern art Contact and interchange between primarily the Latin Greek and Slavic cultural spheres resulted in local assimilations of select elements that reshaped the artistic landscapes of regions of the Balkan Peninsula the Carpathian Mountains and further north The specificities of each region and in modern times politics and nationalistic approaches have reinforced the tendency to treat them separately preventing scholars from questioning whether the visual output could be considered as an expression of a shared history The comparative and interdisciplinary framework of this volume provides a holistic view of the visual culture of these regions by addressing issues of transmission and appropriation as well as notions of cross cultural contact while putting on the global map of art history the eclectic artistic production of Eastern Europe

Women, Men and Eunuchs Elizabeth James, 2013-01-11 The collected papers in this volume present a unique introduction both to the history of women of men and eunuchs or the third sex in Byzantium and to the various theoretical and methodological approaches through which the topic can be examined The contributors use evidence from both texts and images to give a wide ranging picture of the place of women and Byzantine society and the perceptions of women held by that society Women Men and Eunuchs offers a unique and valuable exploration of the issue of gender in Byzantium which will fascinate anyone interested in ancient and medieval history and gender studies

Icons in the Western Church Jeana Visel, 2016-09-06 Within the Eastern tradition of Christianity the eikon or religious image has long held a place of honor In the greater part of Western Christianity however discomfort with images in worship both statues and panel icons has been a relatively common current particularly since the Reformation In the Roman Catholic Church after years of using religious statues the Second Vatican Council s call for noble simplicity in many cases led to a stripping of images that in some ways helped refocus attention on the eucharistic celebration itself but also led to a starkness that has left many Roman Catholics unsure of how to interact with the saints or with religious images at all Today Western interest in panel icons has been rising yet we lack standards of quality or catechesis on what to do with them This book makes the case that icons should have a role to play in the Western Church that goes beyond mere decoration Citing theological and ecumenical reasons Visel argues that with regard to use of icons the post Vatican II Roman Catholic Church needs to give greater respect to the Eastern tradition While Roman Catholics may never interact with icons in quite the same way that Eastern Christians do we do need to come to terms with what icons are and how we should encounter them
