Images of the New Jerusalem Craig S. Campbell, 2004 The Kansas City suburb of Independence Missouri is associated primarily with its most famous son President Harry Truman Yet Independence is also home to a unique and complex religious landscape regarded as sacred space by hundreds of thousands of people associated with the Latter Day Saint family of churches In 1831 Joseph Smith the founder of the Latter Day Saint LDS movement declared Independence the site of the New Jerusalem where followers would build a sacred city the center of Zion Smith prophesied that Jesus Christ would return in millennial and glorious advent to Independence an act that would make the city an American counterpart to old world Jerusalem Smith's plan would have mixed the best qualities of nineteenth century American pastoral and urban psyche However the great splintering among returning Latter Day Saint groups has led to divergent beliefs and multiple interpretations of millennial place Images of the New Jerusalem culls viewpoints from publications and interviews and contrasts them with official church doctrines and mapped land holdings For example with a desire to attract mainstream American the Western LDS Church which holds the largest amount of land in northwestern Missouri keeps fairly silent on the New Jerusalem while the RLDS Church now the Community of Christ has dropped millennial claims gradually adopting a liberal secular style of pseudo Protestantism Smaller groups independent of these two see sacred space in more spatially and doctrinally limited ways The religious ecology among Latter Day Saint churches allows each group its place in the public spotlight and a number of sociopolitical mechanisms reduce conflict among them Nonetheless Independence has developed many traits of the world s most seasoned and conflicted sacred places over a relatively short time This book opens the field of scholarship on this region where profound spatial and doctrinal variation continues Craig S Campbell is professor of geography at Youngstown State University He has published articles in Journal of Cultural Geography Cartographica The Professional Geographer Political Geography and other journals
