Celeste Napier, Peter W. Kalivas, Israel Hanin, 2012-12-06 The basal forebrain has received considerable attention in recent years. This emphasis resulted from observations that the cortically projecting cholinergic neurons found in this region are critical for normal information processing. However, to achieve a complete understanding of such a complex function as information processing, it is necessary to consider the basal forebrain not as an autonomous structure with a solitary task but one that plays an integrative role, a structure that is connected intimately with many brain regions. This view evolved from the realization that the basal forebrain interfaces cognitive and reward functions with motor outputs. It is from this integrative and functional perspective that the present book was organized. The book is a unique collection of reports pertaining to the basal forebrain that encompasses a diversity of research approaches and techniques. It provides the reader with a progression of information that begins with anatomical descriptions of the afferent and efferent systems, stressing the integrative nature of various neurotransmitters located within the basal forebrain. The chapters focusing on anatomy are complemented by electrophysiologic studies that merge anatomical concepts with synaptic pharmacology and behavior. In vitro experiments demonstrate physiologic variations in anatomically identified neuronal subtypes, and together with in vivo techniques, provide pharmacologic descriptions of neuronal consequences to various neurotransmitter influences. Additional in vivo reports correlate changes in neuronal activity with specific motivational states and motor behaviors. These functional approaches culminate with behavioral studies that overview current understanding of basal forebrain involvement in mnemonic reward and motor processes. Proceedings of the (H)IGCSE Colloquium on Teacher Education F. Phiri, 1995 Essentials of Scientific Writing Joseph Mugah, 2016-12-13 Essentials of Scientific Writing How to Write Effective Titles and Abstracts for Research Papers and Proposals is a belated entrant into a vast and crucially important area with scarce reference materials This scarcity manifested itself as I searched what I had expected would be useful source materials for the present book I skimmed through many textbooks on scientific writing and editing articles on the Internet and notes from courses on scientific writing They all turned out to be manifestly wanting in both depth and scope None extended beyond two pages and most were hardly a page long so they were largely useless for my purposes To the authors knowledge few published books treat the subjects of Titles and Abstracts in the kind of detail presented in this book Accordingly in developing the book the author hoped to fill a void in the crucial area of facilitating sharing of knowledge and information from research work It is my hope that everyone writing scientific work will endeavor to find space for the book on their shelves and will place it within arms length whenever they are writing or editing the title or abstract Deep

Learning and Natural Language Processing Based Real-Time Applications Mandakini Chagamreddy, Fair Labelling and the Dilemma of Prosecuting Gender-Based Crimes at the International Criminal Tribunals Hilmi M. Zawati, Hilmi Zawati, 2015-11 This scholarly legal work focuses on the dilemma of prosecuting gender based crimes under the statutes of the international criminal tribunals with reference to the principle of fair labelling In this book Hilmi M Zawati explains how the abstractness and lack of accurate description of gender based crimes in the statutory laws of the international criminal tribunals and courts infringe the principle of fair labelling lead to inconsistent verdicts and punishments and cause inadequate prosecution of these crimes This inquiry deals with gender based crimes as a case study and with fair labelling as a legal principle and a theoretical framework Critical and timely this study contributes to existing scholarship in many different ways It is the first legal analysis to focus on the dilemma of prosecuting and punishing wartime gender based crimes in the statutory laws of the international criminal tribunals and the ICC in the context of fair labelling Moreover it emphasizes that applying fair labelling to wartime gender based crimes would enable the tribunals and the ICC to deliver fair judgments eliminate inconsistent prosecution overcome shortcomings in addressing gender based crimes within their jurisprudence while breaking the cycle of impunity for these crimes Consisting of two parts this work begins by outlining the central focus and theoretical legal framework of the study It concentrates on fair labelling as an imperative legal principle and a legal framework examines its intellectual development scope and justification and illustrates its applicability to gender based crimes The second part addresses the dilemma of prosecuting gender based crimes in the international criminal tribunals Botswana..., 1999 The Quebec Law Digest Charles Henry Stephens, 1886

Explorations and Proposals toward Market Socialism and World Government James A. Yunker, 2022-09-26 This book blends real world history intellectual history and personal history into a compelling case for a new way of thinking about such highly controversial and highly misunderstood concepts as market socialism a Global Marshall Plan and world government It argues that if properly designed according to clear and specific blueprints all three of these possibilities would indeed greatly benefit humanity if they were fully implemented The book puts a human face on these proposals by documenting their origin and development through a detailed account of the author's professional efforts over a long and productive academic career. This story of steadfast determination in the face of steep odds will resonate deeply with every person who has nourished a vision that is commonly dismissed as excessively idealistic and unrealistic. Paper, 1924 The Chemical Adventures of Sherlock Holmes Thomas G. ACCA is the global body for professional accountants. With over 100 years of providing world class accounting and finance qualifications, the ACCA has significantly raised its international profile in recent years and now supports a BSc Hons in Applied Accounting and an MBA. BPP Learning Media is an ACCA Official Publisher. P2 is a very challenging paper which builds on the knowledge and skills acquired at earlier levels in the preparation and analysis of financial reports for single entities and groups. It takes these areas to a higher level, putting into context the role of the accountant as a professional steward and adviser who is responsible to the stakeholders of an organisation. It has five main sections: 1 Regulatory and ethical framework and current issues; 2 Reporting the financial performance of entities; 3 Group financial statements; 4 Specialised entities; 5 Analysis of the financial performance of entities. The main new topics introduced at this level relate to group accounts, but other topics are tested with a different emphasis and in more depth than at the Fundamentals Level. We provide material for both International and UK streams. International is now the ACCA main stream. The study text has been reviewed by the examiner and takes account of his advice on approaching the paper. Ethics, which have an impact on all aspects of financial reporting, are introduced at an early stage in the text, as is corporate social responsibility, so that students do not neglect these topics when covering the numerical areas. Accounting standards come next, combining revision with extension into more advanced areas. After a brief revision of basic groups, the more advanced consolidation topics are covered. Current issues are covered throughout the text within the appropriate topics and also summarised in a final chapter. The question bank contains practice at the case study style question you will encounter in the real exam. BPP Learning Media is the publisher of choice for many ACCA students and tuition providers worldwide. Join them and plug into a world of expertise in ACCA exams.

Histopathology Gordon W.H. Stamp, N.A. Wright, 2012-12-06 It is easy to be confident that an appropriate body of advice is available to candidates about the content of an examination once you have passed it. Prospectively, the Primary and Final Examinations of the Royal College of Pathologists will appear to most to involve the assimilation of what seems at the time an inexhaustible volume of data, and the recent change in the College examination system has not diminished this concern for the majority of candidates. The guidelines for training for the new Part I examination state that this is the major hurdle of the MRCPATH and it is clear that it will determine whether candidates are suitable for training which will permit them to practise independently as consultants after Part II. These general aims and objectives do not answer questions such as: How much do I need to know about glomerulonephritis or Where do I stop with the lymphomas This text attempts to resolve the difficulty of knowing what standard to aim at using College questions as its starting point It concentrates on the essential basis of any single answer many candidates for the new three year examination will know more about individual topics than is stated here However it is the breadth of information required which is a feature of College examinations and this text should help with this problem Learning with Understanding in the Chemistry Classroom Iztok Devetak, Saša Aleksij Glazar, 2014-01-14 This volume offers a critical examination of a variety of conceptual approaches to teaching and learning chemistry in the school classroom Presenting up to date research and theory and featuring contributions by respected academics on several continents it explores ways of making knowledge meaningful and relevant to students as well as strategies for effectively communicating the core concepts essential for developing a robust understanding of the subject Structured in three sections the contents deal first with teaching and learning chemistry discussing general issues and pedagogical strategies using macro sub micro and symbolic representations of chemical concepts Researchers also describe new and productive teaching strategies The second section examines specific approaches that foster learning with understanding focusing on techniques such as cooperative learning presentations laboratory activities multimedia simulations and role playing in forensic chemistry classes The final part of the book details learner centered active chemistry learning methods active computer aided learning and trainee chemistry teachers use of student centered learning during their pre service education Comprehensive and highly relevant this new publication makes a significant contribution to the continuing task of making chemistry classes engaging and effective Accounts and Papers of the House of Commons Great Britain.
