Moving Message Display System Project Report:

Project MAC Progress Report Project MAC (Massachusetts Institute of Technology), 1973 Project Deep Space H. Preston, 2000-12 The year was 2115 For more than 150 years governments and private firms had been flying into space but they still had not reached a point at which they had established a viable space travel industry The growing public opinion was that they were spending too much money wasting too much of Earth's scarce resources and were no nearer to the routine hauling of passengers and freight than they were 150 years ago The idea of space travel beyond our planetary system had faded to a level of wild fantasy While an innovative spacecraft manufacturing company and an aggressive airline firm brought space travel to the level of a viable industry with the introduction of a propulsion system without the need to carry a fuel load The new ships were powered by electrical energy But they had a serious limitation there had to be a power station at the destination With bases on planets and satellites further and further away they gradually established a system to exploit the resources of other planets and asteroids mining and discovering new minerals This story is about the results of a discovery on one of those planets that enabled the development of a propulsion system that revolutionized space travel allowing journeys beyond the solar system Human Factors in Intelligent Transportation Systems Woodrow Barfield, Thomas A. Dingus, 2014-01-14 The Intelligent Transportation System ITS Program is a cooperative effort by government private industry and academia to apply advanced technology to the task of resolving the problems of surface transportation The objective is to improve travel efficiency and mobility enhance safety conserve energy provide economic benefits and protect the environment The current demand for mobility has exceeded the available capacity of the roadway system Because the highway system cannot be expanded except in minor ways the available capacity must be used more efficiently to handle the increased demand ITS applies advanced information processing communication sensing and computer control technologies to the problems of surface transportation Considerable research and development efforts will be required to produce these new technologies and to convert technologies developed in the defense and space programs to solve surface transportation problems ITS has been subdivided into six interlocking technology areas This book addresses human factors concerns for four of these areas Advanced Traveler Information Systems are a variety of systems that provide real time in vehicle information to drivers regarding navigation and route guidance motorist services roadway signing and hazard warnings Advanced Vehicle Control Systems refer to systems that aid drivers in controlling their vehicle particularly in emergency situations and ultimately taking over some or all of the driving tasks Commercial Vehicle Operations address the application of ITS technologies to the special needs of commercial roadway vehicles including automated vehicle identification location weigh in motion clearance sensing and record keeping Advanced Traffic Management Systems monitor control and manage traffic on streets and highways to reduce congestion using vehicle route diversion automated signal timing changeable message signs and priority control systems Two technical areas are not specifically addressed in individual chapters but many aspects of them are covered in associated chapters Advanced Rural Transportation Systems include systems that apply ITS technologies to the special needs of rural systems and include emergency notification and response vehicle location and traveler information Advanced Public Transportation Systems enhance the effectiveness attractiveness and economics of public transportation and include fleet management automated fare collection and real time information systems
