Escaping the Progress Trap Daniel Brian O'Leary, 2005-12-31 The Progress Trap As the name implies it is the condition in which we find ourselves when science technology and industry create more problems than they can solve Often inadvertently Many experts have warned about the resulting ecological crisis The prophets of doom have spoken and alarm bells have sounded Some critics are even optimistic but they have no plan They have not provided a detailed analysis of why humans fall into progress traps They have not put forward what is necessary for emerging from them Until now Find out why societies have a tendency to become entangled in their own ingenuity Then learn how well equipped we humans are for resolving the environmental quandary and other traps Finding our way out of this predicament is a vital idea when we learn how to nurture and use our talent for creative problem solving Natural Religion Insufficient, and Revealed Necessary, to Man's Happiness in His Present State: Or, A Rational Enquiry Into the Principles of the Modern From Darkness into Light Robert Ratonyi, 2020-09-24 The main title of the book From Deists: Thomas Halyburton, 1798 Darkness into Light is a metaphor referring to the most important life altering event in the author's life from a totalitarian dictatorship to living in the free world The subtitle reflects his eyewitness account of events and experiences captured in five stories in chronological order from his birth in 1938 in Budapest Hungary to when he is in the United States as twenty six years old as a married man with a child a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology MIT the world s premier science and engineering institution and ready to embark on living the American dream Robert Ratonyi spent the first seven years of his life in an openly anti Semitic country suffering the loss of his father and many of his close relatives uncles aunts and cousins in the Holocaust He then spent his adolescent years under the hard core Stalinist communist dictatorship He was brought up by a single mother a Holocaust survivor in a working class neighborhood According to contemporary American definition the family lived in poverty barely making it from paycheck to paycheck his uneducated and unskilled mother could provide as a manual laborer As a freshman at the Technical University of Budapest he participated in a peaceful student march on October 23 1956 that turned into a bloody uprising against the regime He was caught up in the uprising hoping that Hungary could break free out of the iron curtain that separated the east from the west When the Russians put down the revolution he managed to escape to Austria on December 6 1956 with no money or other earthly possessions leaving behind his mother family and friends He was single mindedly focused on finding a new free country where he could continue his university education He went to the American Embassy in Vienna to apply for immigrating to the US but was told that the quota for Hungarian refugees was filled The Canadians were actively seeking students who wanted to continue their education and Robert Ratonyi ended up in Montr al Canada in February 1957 The last story ends when

Robert Ratonyi succeeds in finishing his education at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1964 This story demonstrates how an immigrant can become a contributor to society by taking risks being willing to work hard delaying gratification learning English and getting a good education He is now semiretired as a portfolio manager and is a regular speaker on behalf of the William Breman Jewish Heritage Holocaust Museum and the Georgia Commission on the Holocaust He and his wife live in Atlanta and are fervent supporters of the arts education as well as local Jewish organizations
