grounds Never before or since has the United States engaged in such a program In designing Selective Service Medical Circular No 1 psychiatrist Harry Stack Sullivan assumed psychiatrists could predict who might break down or falter in military service or even in civilian life thereafter While many American and European psychiatrists questioned this belief and huge numbers of American psychiatric casualties soon raised questions about screening s validity psychiatric and military leaders persisted in 1942 and 1943 in endorsing ever tougher screening and little else Soon families complained of fathers and teens being drafted instead of being identified as psychiatric 4Fs and Blacks and Native Americans among others complained of bias A frustrated General George S Patton famously slapped two malingering neuropsychiatric patients in Sicily a sentiment shared by Marshall and Eisenhower though they favored a tamer style Yet psychiatric rejections evacuations and discharges mounted While psychiatrist Roy Grinker and a few others treated soldiers close to the front in Tunisia in early 1943 this was the exception But as demand for manpower soared and psychiatrists finally went to the field and saw that combat itself not predisposition precipitated breakdown leading military psychiatrists switched their emphasis from screening to prevention and treatment But this switch was too little too late and slowed by a year long series of Inspector General investigations even while numbers of psychiatric casualties soared Ironically despite and even partly because of psychiatrists wartime performance plus the emotional toll of war postwar America soon witnessed a dramatic growth in numbers popularity and influence of the profession culminating in the National Mental Health Act 1946 But veterans with PTSD not recognized until 1980 were largely neglected

Assessing Contexts of Learning Susanne Kuger, Eckhard Klieme, Nina Jude, David Kaplan, 2016-12-05 This volume brings together educational effectiveness research and international large scale assessments demonstrating how the two fields can be applied to inspire and improve each other and providing readers direct links to instruments that cover a broad range of topics and have been shown to work in more than 70 countries The book s initial chapters introduce and summarize recent discussions and developments in the conceptualization implementation and evaluation of international large scale context assessments and provide an outlook on possible future developments Subsequently three thematic sections Student Background Outcomes of Education Beyond Achievement and Learning in Schools each present a series of chapters that provide the conceptual background for a wide range of important topics in education research policy and practice Each chapter defines a conceptual framework that relates recent findings in the educational effectiveness research literature to current issues in education policy and practice These frameworks were used to develop interesting and relevant indicators that may be used for meaningful reporting from international assessments other cross cultural research or national studies Using the example of one particular survey the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA 2015 this volume links all theoretical considerations to fully developed questionnaire material that was field trailed and evaluated in questionnaires for students and their parents as well as teachers and principals in their schools The primary purposes of this book are to inform readers about how education effectiveness research and international large scale assessments are already interacting to inform research and policymaking to identify areas where a closer collaboration of both fields or input from other areas could further improve this work to provide sound theoretical frameworks for future work in both fields and finally to relate these theoretical debates to currently available and evaluated material for future context assessments The Rocket Lab Michael G. Smith, 2023-05-15

An African American Dilemma Zoë Burkholder, 2021-07-11 An African American Dilemma offers the first social history of northern Black debates over school integration versus separation from the 1840s to the present Since Brown v Board of Education in 1954 Americans have viewed school integration as a central tenet of the Black civil rights movement Yet school integration was not the only or even always the dominant civil rights strategy At times African Americans also fought for separate Black controlled schools dedicated to racial uplift and community empowerment An African American Dilemma offers a social history of these debates within northern Black communities from the 1840s to the present Drawing on sources including the Black press school board records social science studies the papers of civil rights activists and court cases it reveals that northern Black communities urban and suburban vacillated between a preference for either school integration or separation during specific eras Yet there was never a consensus It also highlights the chorus of dissent debate and counter narratives that pushed families to consider a fuller range of educational reforms A sweeping historical analysis that covers the entire history of public education in the North this work complicates our understanding of school integration by highlighting the diverse perspectives of Black students parents teachers and community leaders all committed to improving public education It finds that Black school integrationists and separatists have worked together in a dynamic tension that fueled effective strategies for educational reform and the Black civil rights movement a discussion that continues to be highly charged in present day schooling choices August's Consultations in Feline Internal Medicine, Volume 7 Susan E. Eyler, 2024-08-27 An indictment of the grading system in American schools and colleges and a blueprint for how we can change it One of the most urgent and long standing issues in the US education system is its obsession with grades In Failing Our Future Joshua R Eyler shines a spotlight on how grades inhibit learning cause problems between parents and children amplify inequities and contribute to the youth mental health crisis Eyler who runs the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning at the University of Mississippi illustrates how grades interfere with students intrinsic motivation and perpetuate the idea that school is a place for competition rather than discovery Grades force students to focus on rewards and distract them from exploring ideas or pursuing interests beyond what they'll be tested on In fact grades significantly impede the learning process They are also significantly affecting children's physical emotional and psychological well being Rates of anxiety depression and suicidal ideation have spiked and academic stress tied to grades is a leading cause of this escalation Eyler shares success stories of grading reform efforts that are already under way as an antidote to the harms caused by the practices currently used in educational institutions Equal parts scathing and hopeful Failing Our Future aims to improve the lives of students by encouraging them to define success on their own terms Parents educators policymakers and students will find in these pages a rallying cry for change and a blueprint for how to implement reforms in our homes and classrooms Women in Mechanical Engineering Margaret Bailey, Laura Shackelford, 2022-04-27 This book features influential scholarly research and technical contributions professional trajectories disciplinary shifts personal insights and a combination of these from a group of remarkable women within mechanical engineering Combined these chapters tell an important story about the dynamic field of mechanical engineering in the areas of energy and the environment as seen from the perspective of some of its most extraordinary women scientists and engineers The volume shares with the Women in Engineering and Science Series the primary aim of documenting and raising awareness of the valuable multi faceted contributions of women engineers and scientists past and present to these areas Women in mechanical engineering and energy and the environment are historically relevant and continue to lead these fields as passionate risk takers entrepreneurs innovators educators and researchers Chapter authors are members of the National Academies winners of major awards and recognition that include Presidential Medals as well as SWE SAE ASME ASEE and IEEE Award winners and Fellows Gunnar Myrdal and America's Conscience Walter A.
