

BASEBALL PRACTICE PLAN

Warm-up (10 minutes)	Good stretching habits should be formed early in a player's career. Make sure to have players stretch shoulders, back and leg muscles. Don't be afraid to work in some strengthening exercises into the older player's routine. During stretching is a good time to let the team know the plan for the day's practice. A team jog is a good way to finish the warm up.
Form throwing (10 - 15 minutes)	Whether you have them start on one knee, and work up to a regular standing throw - or start with the standing throwing motion - playing catch is one of the more important things you'll have the players do at practice. Most throwing warm-ups are not supervised carefully and are therefore mindless. Have the players develop proper throwing and catching mechanics . Proper habits developed now will last a lifetime and really pay off down the road.
Base running basics (10 minutes)	Now is a great time to teach proper base running, while also developing conditioning and getting the players ready for the rest of practice. You could split the players into two groups (one coach with each). Have half of the kids go from home to first and work on running through the bag, then rounding the bag. The other group could work on scoring from second base. Once each player has done four or five trips, rotate stations.
Fielding (10 minutes)	Break into groups of groundballs and fly balls. Coaches can hit (or throw) the balls to the players. Make sure to teach proper techniques (footwork, glove placement, using two hands, etc.). Rotate stations.
Game situation: Where's the play? (10 - 15 minutes)	Time here will depend on the age you are coaching. The more inexperienced the more time you will need to spend on baseball basics. But even high school and college teams will benefit from situational drills. This work can win -- or lose -- many games during the season. Rotate groups of three runners with fielders. This is also a great conditioning drill for the base runners.
Hitting (20 - 25 minutes)	Again, break players into groups. The age groups and how many coaches you have will determine how many stations you can have. The more the better, as this means more swings in the given time frame. Obviously with six-year olds you cannot leave them alone doing see work, but with older kids you can. You can use many different stations with tee work, soft toss and live hitting. The goal is get 60-75 swings total each in 20 minutes .

Travel Baseball Coach HowExpert, Thomas Nelson, 2018-04-05 If you're looking to gain an inside edge when it comes to being a travel baseball coach then this is the book for you. This book was designed to walk you through step by step how to build a powerhouse program moving forward. You'll be given the ins and outs of recruiting to start stocking your team with premium players. An inside look at the most effective batting drills to ensure an offensive powerhouse. Proper fielding technique and drills to reinforce the technique is also provided. Finally you will learn about basic pitching mechanics and pitches to get your boys ready for Spring. This book has you covered from day 1 all the way to your last tournament. About The Expert Tom Nelson grew up playing baseball in the suburbs of Chicago. He was raised as a die hard Whitesox fan by his father and played the game from a very young age. He was primarily a middle infielder but occasionally would pitch for both his high school and travel team. His baseball scholarships were to the Big 10 until several injuries derailed his career. Once he was hurt he shifted gears and went to West Virginia University where he studied business and graduated with honors. He currently serves as the head coach for the Naperville Renegades 14U American team where he continues to serve the game he loves. HowExpert publishes quick how to guides on all topics from A to Z by everyday experts.

Clinical Pharmacology in Athletic Training Michelle Cleary, Tom Abdenour, Mike Pavlovich, 2021-10-12 Athletic trainers have a responsibility to provide high quality pharmaceutical care while meeting both legal and ethical requirements Clinical Pharmacology in Athletic Training empowers athletic trainers with a functional understanding of pharmacology that enables them to formulate a treatment plan intended to mitigate disease and improve the overall health of their patients This text incorporates the most up to date content from the 2020 Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education CAATE standards and it emphasizes interprofessional practice to enable future and current athletic trainers to collaborate with other health professionals in a manner that optimizes the quality of care Clinical Pharmacology in Athletic Training begins by addressing drug legislation and the legal aspects of the athletic trainer s role in sport medication

The text provides an overview of pharmacokinetics and pharmacodynamics with an emphasis on concepts relevant to clinical practice. Students are introduced to the generic and brand names, general classifications, and appropriate administration of drugs and are guided toward appropriate online reference materials. Part II of this text describes common medications for pain, inflammation, and infections. Part III includes medications for specific conditions including respiratory, cardiovascular, gastrointestinal, neurological, gynecological, and mental health conditions. The text also includes current information on opioid analgesics, cannabis, and cannabinoid-based medications. Clinical Pharmacology in Athletic Training teaches students to administer appropriate pharmacological agents for the management of the patient's condition. The information includes indications, contraindications, dosing, interactions, and adverse reactions. The following features are included to aid in the learning process: Chapter objectives set the stage for the main topics covered in the chapter; Key terms are boldfaced to indicate terms of special importance, and a glossary of definitions is included at the back of the book; Red Flag sidebars highlight warnings and precautions for certain medications or medicolegal issues; Evidence in Pharmacology sidebars highlight recent research regarding medications; Clinical Application sidebars present real-life stories from the field of athletic training; Case studies highlight specific therapeutic medication applications and are accompanied by questions that prompt readers to think critically about the issues presented; Quick reference drug tables describe medication types, generic and brand names, pronunciations, common indications, and other special considerations for the athletic trainer. Over the past decade, there has been an increased emphasis on pharmacology in athletic training. Clinical Pharmacology in Athletic Training will equip students with appropriate skills and competencies, prepare them to meet patient needs, and enable them to work in interprofessional teams.

A Constraints-Led Approach to Baseball Coaching Rob Gray, Randy Sullivan, 2023-03-15. A Constraints Led Approach to Baseball Coaching presents a new approach to baseball coaching and practice. Applying a CLA to the player development process across the skill spectrum from the beginners to elite, this book uses practical examples to demonstrate the theoretical principles of the constraints-led coaching style embedded in research, showing the numerous benefits of the approach. This book incorporates case studies and examples of how constraints are manipulated to develop more adaptable players that can perform at a higher level with a reduced risk of injury, shifting the reader's view of skill acquisition from the concept of the one correct solution acquired through repetition to the ecological dynamics framework focused on variability, adaptability, and self-organization. Individual chapters cover major topics such as hitting, pitching, and fielding for players from Little League to the pros. This book illustrates the underlying principles so that coaches can develop their own practice activities. A Constraints Led Approach to Baseball Coaching is a key reading for undergraduate students and practicing sports coaches, physical education teachers, and sport scientists alike, as well as practicing players and coaches in baseball and related sports.
