Clinical Guide to Helping New Parents W. Kim Halford, Jemima Petch, Debra Creedy, 2015-04-25 This accessible guide details an evidence based educational program to help couples adapt to parenthood while minimizing the inevitable stress on the relationship Complete with content rationales activities and client materials its flexible format allows for home and office visits and phone online support across the transition starting during pregnancy and continuing into early infancy Activities build on themes of caring change and cooperation as couples learn to identify and address sources of conflict solve infant care problems and to become optimal partners as well as optimal parents The book s hands on presentation includes chapter highlights boxed Practice Tips and Clinical Connections sections client handouts and worksheets and examples of clinician interactions with couples The sessions described in Clinical Guide to Helping New Parents The Couple CARE for Parents Program are organized to meet challenges and reinforce skills in key areas including Developing realistic and shared expectations Promoting positive communications and self change Conflict management communication skills Developing sensitive and responsive parenting Reviewing personal and social support Developing caring and healthy sexuality Anticipating and preventing relationship deterioration Positive Youth Development, Mental Health, and Psychological Well-Being in Diverse Youth Nora Wiium, Laura Ferrer-Wreder, Jennifer E. Lansford, Lene Arnett Jensen, 2023-06-15 In this Research Topic our aim is to examine how personal resources related to competencies skills and self perception as well as environmental contextual and relational features of the social contexts of diverse youth directly or indirectly are important to mental health and psychological well being As previous research on young people has mainly focused on youth s weaknesses rather than their strengths our use of Positive Youth Development PYD in working with culturally diverse youth and their well being in this Research Topic is novel We invite contributions from researchers that were initially presented their papers in a meeting that was held by research partners of the Cross National Project on Positive Youth Development CN PYD and who represent an international and multidisciplinary panel of experts on PYD The CN PYD was initiated in 2014 at the University of Bergen and has an ongoing data collection that involves approximately 10 000 minority and majority youth and emerging adults ages 16 to 29 living in Africa Asia Australia Europe New Zealand and South America CN PYD uses a strengths based approach to the conceptualization of youth as resources and agentic which is in opposition to the view of the developmental period of adolescence as being a period inherently fraught with problems and risks The goal of the cross national project is to assess personal strengths and contextual resources considering how these resources come together to facilitate youth thriving and to document how young people make positive and valued contributions to themselves and others We also advance research on the complex interplay between personal and contextual resources and their connections with risk behaviors and problems in essence taking a perspective of the whole child both in terms of strengths and problems

Introduction to Clinical Skills Mark B. Mengel, Scott A. Fields, 2007-08-19 This practical text is an excellent introduction to the clinical skills all physicians particularly those in primary care disciplines need to treat their patients in a humane fashion and at a reasonable cost The authors focus on patient centered or generalist skills that will help the biomedically oriented physician become more comfortable in managing patient care situations In addition the chapters review the diagnostic treatment and technical skills that medical students encountered in their Introduction to Clinical Medicine or Physical Diagnosis courses The book s clinical cases will stimulate class discussions and provide vignettes for skills practice
