OSS Operation Black Mail Ann Todd,2017-09-15 OSS Operation Black Mail is the story of a remarkable woman who fought World War II on the front lines of psychological warfare Elizabeth Betty P McIntosh spent eighteen months serving in the Office of Strategic Services in what has been called the forgotten theater China Burma India where she met and worked with characters as varied as Julia Child and Ho Chi Minh Her craft was black propaganda and her mission was to demoralize the enemy through prevarication and deceit and ultimately convince him to surrender Betty and her crew ingeniously obtained and altered personal correspondence between Japanese soldiers and their families on the home islands of Japan She also ordered the killing of a Japanese courier in the jungles of Burma to plant a false surrender order in his mailbag By the time Betty flew the Hump from Calcutta to China she was acting head of the Morale Operations branch for the entire theater overseeing the production of thousands of pamphlets and radio scripts the generation of fiendishly clever rumors and the printing of a variety of faked Japanese Burmese and Chinese newspapers Her strategy involved targeting not merely the Japanese soldier but the man within the son the husband the father She knew her work could ultimately save lives but never lost sight of the fact that her propaganda was a weapon and her intended target the enemy This is not a typical war story The only beaches stormed are the minds of an invisible enemy Often a great deal of time and effort was expended in conception and production and rarely was it known if even a shred reached the hands of the intended recipient The process was opaque on both ends the origin of a rumor or radio broadcast obscured the target elusive For Betty and her friends time on the front lines of psychological warfare in China Burma India rushed by in a cascade of creativity and innovation played out on a stage where a colonial world was ending and chaos awaited The Second Death of Ava Black A.G. Porter, 2024

The world is on the brink of devastation Natural disasters plagues and death run rampant as the malevolent Goddess of Darkness and Destruction Thyana is free The very fabric of reality unravels as Thyana executes her plan to annihilate humanity Gabriel Matthews thrust into a perilous journey alongside his friends and defected Mavors chases the ominous signs of the apocalypse Branded a traitor and fleeing the only life he's ever known Gabriel is determined to thwart Thyana's intricate scheme and save humanity Yet his ultimate mission becomes intensely personal as he strives not only to rescue the world but also the person who matters most Ava Black Ava liberated from Thyana's clutches grapples with newfound abilities that challenge her very identity Racing against time she seeks to protect her loved ones salvage a crumbling world and perhaps save her own soul Having worked tirelessly to transform into a better person Ava questions her humanity as she battles against an emerging darkness within Will her friends embrace her return Can Gabriel still see the woman she once was The haunting possibility lingers could Ava like Thyana harbor a thirst for blood In this gripping tale of survival redemption and the battle between light and shadow the fate of humanity hangs in the balance Galaxy Formation and

Mergers with Stars and Massive Black Holes Chi-hun Kim, Ji-hoon Kim, 2011 While mounting observational evidence suggests the coevolution of galaxies and their embedded massive black holes MBHs a comprehensive astrophysical understanding which incorporates both galaxies and MBHs has been missing To tackle the nonlinear processes of galaxy formation we develop a state of the art numerical framework which self-consistently models the interplay between galactic components dark matter gas stars and MBHs Utilizing this physically motivated tool we present an investigation of a massive star-forming galaxy hosting a slowly growing MBH in a cosmological LCDM simulation The MBH feedback heats the surrounding gas and locally suppresses star formation in the galactic inner core In simulations of merging galaxies the high resolution adaptive mesh allows us to observe widespread starbursts via shock induced star formation and the interplay between the galaxies and their embedding medium Fast growing MBHs in merging galaxies drive more frequent and powerful jets creating sizable bubbles at the galactic centers We conclude that the interaction between the interstellar gas stars and MBHs is critical in understanding the star formation history black hole accretion history and cosmological evolution of galaxies Expanding upon our extensive experience in galactic simulations we are well poised to apply this tool to other challenging yet highly rewarding tasks in contemporary astrophysics such as high redshift quasar formation Black

Feminist Thought Patricia Hill Collins, 2002-06-01 In spite of the double burden of racial and gender discrimination African American women have developed a rich intellectual tradition that is not widely known In Black Feminist Thought Patricia Hill Collins explores the words and ideas of Black feminist intellectuals as well as those African American women outside academe She provides an interpretive framework for the work of such prominent Black feminist thinkers as Angela Davis bell hooks Alice Walker and Audre Lorde The result is a superbly crafted book that provides the first synthetic overview of Black feminist thought Evangelicalism and the Politics of Reform in Northern Black Thought, 1776-1863 Rita

Roberts, 2011-01-01 During the revolutionary age and in the early republic when racial ideologies were evolving and slavery expanding some northern blacks surprisingly came to identify very strongly with the American cause and to take pride in calling themselves American In this intriguing study Rita Roberts explores this phenomenon and offers an in depth examination of the intellectual underpinnings of antebellum black activists She shows how conversion to Christianity led a significant and influential population of northern blacks to view the developing American republic and their place in the new nation through the lens of evangelicalism American identity therefore even the formation of an African ethnic community and later an African American identity developed within the evangelical and republican ideals of the revolutionary age Evangelical values Roberts contends exerted a strong influence on the strategies of northern black reformist activities specifically abolition anti racism and black community development The activists and reformers commitment to the United States and firm determination to make the country live up to its national principles hinged on their continued faith in the possibility of the collective transformation of all Americans The people of the United States both black and white they believed would become a new citizenry distinct from any population in the world because of their commitment to the tenets of the Christian republican faith Roberts explores the process by which a collective identity formed among northern free blacks and notes the ways in which ministers and other leaders established their African identity through an emphasis on shared oppression She shows why in spite of slavery's expansion in the 1820s and 1830s northern blacks demonstrated more not less commitment to the nation Roberts then examines the Christian influence on racial theories of some of the major abolitionist figures of the antebellum era including Frederick Douglass Martin Delany and especially James McCune Smith and reveals how activists sense of their American identity waned with the intensity of American racism and the passage of laws that further protected slavery in the 1850s But the Civil War and Emancipation Proclamation she explains renewed hope that America would soon become a free and equal nation Impeccably researched Evangelicalism and the Politics of Reform in Northern Black Thought 1776 1863 offers an innovative look at slavery abolition and African American history Black Enterprise ,1984-01 BLACK ENTERPRISE is the ultimate source for wealth creation for African American professionals entrepreneurs and corporate executives Every month BLACK ENTERPRISE delivers timely useful information on careers small business and personal finance Psychology of Blacks Thomas A Parham,Adisa Ajamu,Joseph L. White,2015-10-14 For courses in Introduction to Psychology African American Psychology African American Studies Multicultural Counseling and Cross Cultural Counseling and Psychotherapy This text highlights the limitations of traditional psychological theories and approaches when applied to people of African descent It provides information on how the African Centered Perspective is defined as well as how it operates in the context of the African American family with regard to identity development education mental health research and managing contemporary issues It links the context of African American life to the traditions values and spiritual essence of their African ancestors in an attempt to acknowledge the African worldview and assist the African American community in addressing some of the challenges they continue to face Fear of a Black Nation David Austin,2023-04-18 In the 1960s Montreal was a hotbed of radical politics that attracted Black and Caribbean figures such as C L R James Walter Rodney Mariam Makeba Stokely Carmichael Rocky Jones and douard Glissant It was also a place where the ideas of Frantz Fanon Aim C saire and Malcolm X circulated alongside those of Karl Marx Jean Paul Sartre and Simone de Beauvoir During this period of global upheaval and heightened Canadian and Quebec nationalism Montreal became a central site of Black and Caribbean radical politics Situating Canada within the Black radical tradition and its Caribbean radical counterpart Fear of a Black Nation paints a history of Montreal and the Black activists who lived sojourned in or visited the city and agitated for change Drawing on Saidiya Hartman s conception of slavery s afterlife and what David Austin describes as biosexuality a deeply embedded fear of Black self organization and interracial solidarity Fear of a Black Nation argues that the policing and surveillance of Black lives today is tied to the racial including sexual codes and practices and the discipline and punishment associated with slavery As meditation on Black radical politics and state security surveillance and repression Fear of a Black Nation combines theoretical and philosophical inquiry with literary oral and archival sources to reflect on Black political organizing In reflecting on Black self organization and historic events such as the Congress of Black Writers and the Sir George Williams Affair the book ultimately poses the question what can past freedom struggles teach us about the struggle for freedom today Featuring two new interviews with the author and a new preface this expanded second edition enriches the political and theoretical conversation on Black organising and movement building in Canada and internationally As the Black Lives Matter and abolition movements today popularize calls to disarm and defund the police and to abolish prisons Fear of a Black Nation provides an invaluable reflection on the policing of Black activism and a compelling political analysis of social movements and freedom struggles that is more relevant now than ever

Black Flowers, White Lies Yvonne Ventresca, 2016-10-04 Her father died before she was born but Ella Benton knows they have a supernatural connection Since her mother discourages these beliefs Ella keeps her cemetery visits secret But she may not be the only one with secrets Ella's mother might be lying about how Dad died sixteen years ago Newfound evidence points to his death in a psychiatric hospital not as a result of a tragic car accident as her mother always claimed After a lifetime of just the two of them Mom suddenly feels like a stranger When a handprint much like the one Ella left on her father's tombstone mysteriously appears on the bathroom mirror at first she wonders if Dad is warning her of danger as he did once before If it's not a warning could her new too good to be true boyfriend be responsible for the strange occurrences Or maybe it's the grieving building superintendent whose dead daughter strongly resembles Ella As the unexplained events become more frequent and more sinister Ella becomes terrified about who or what might harm her Soon the evidence points to someone else entirely Ella herself What if like her father she's suffering from a breakdown In this second novel from award winning author Yvonne Ventresca Ella desperately needs to find answers no matter how disturbing the truth might be Sky Pony Press with our Good Books Racehorse and Arcade imprints is proud to publish a broad range of books for young readers picture books for small children chapter books books for middle grade readers and novels for young adults Our list includes bestsellers for children who love to play Minecraft stories told with LEGO bricks books that teach lessons about tolerance patience and the environment and much more While not every title we publish becomes a New York Times bestseller or a national bestseller we are committed to books on subjects that are sometimes overlooked and to authors whose work might not otherwise find a home

Black House/ White House Charles Fletcher, 2013-03-28 This book is about the hundreds of emails that was received from The White House and President Barack Obama in the last of his first four year term in Office As the First Black African American President as the occupant in the White house President Obama has been ridicule by his critics beyond any racial insensitivity of any President in the history of that Office The good thing about this book is that there are hundreds of web sites that the reader can click on to get in depth details about the articles in question The President has made it clear that his Administration would have an open door policy and transparent for the people We stayed Connected to The White House

Crackback! Fitzgerald Hill, 2012 Every Saturday in the autumn millions of Americans watch college football They visit leafy campuses tailgate with friends and then sit down to enjoy one of the country's oldest and most beloved sporting traditions. They also witness one of the country's most visible tableaux of racial inequity. Some 120 colleges and universities field teams in the NCAA's top tier of the sport known as the Football Bowl Subdivision. But only a small fraction of those teams are coached by African Americans or other minorities. Yet there seems to be little focus on this issue in today's society even from the African American community itself. Why is it that the National Football League has advanced so much farther in giving opportunities to minority coaches? Dr. Fitzgerald Hill, along with award-winning sportswriter Mark Purdy, attack the racial dynamics of the important Crackback syndrome in which minority coaches are led to believe they actually do have a fair chance at every job opening only to be blindsided at the last minute by hidden forces that undermine their dreams. There is hope for the future but first we have to be willing to look closely at a sensitive topic. That is why Crackback is necessary for everyone, especially college football fans of any color or team. New Criticism and Pedagogical Directions for Contemporary Black Women Writers LaToya Jefferson-James, 2022-03-03

New Criticism and Pedagogical Directions for Contemporary Black Women Writers is a collection of critical and pedagogical essays that shed new light on the creative depths of Black women writers. On the one hand, some Black women writers have been heavily anthologized; they have more often than not been restricted by critical metanarratives. Some of their works have been lionized while others remain neglected. On the other hand, some Black women writers have been ignored and understudied. This collection corrects the gaps in our critical thinking about Black women writers by introducing them to a new generation of undergraduate and graduate students and by presenting pedagogical essays to our colleagues currently working in the field.
