A Photographer's Impressions Francesc Català-Roca, 2025-05-22 Francesc Català Roca 1922 1998 was a Spanish photographer of great renown considered a pioneer of documentary photography Català Roca's A Photographer's Impressions stands as a testament to an analog era now almost entirely wiped out with the advent of the Internet and digital technologies His photographic legacy is an invaluable visual testimony of the Spanish society of his time His work in the 1940s 1950s and 1960s represented the emergence of new street photography in Spain For half a century he travelled across Spain masterfully capturing everyday scenes of the post war era and the essence of urban landscapes He worked alongside artists such as Joan Mir and Antoni Tàpies immortalizing the art and culture of the 20th century Thirty years after its first edition photography and history enthusiasts will discover previously unpublished content to enrich historiographic narratives The text both entertaining and spontaneous preserves not only anecdotes about events and figures of the 20th century but also offers humanist ideas for a responsible and passionate approach to photography Even though the technology of that time has long been surpassed this book remains full of vibrant ideas serving as an antidote to today's automatism overconsumption and globalization that can trivialize the image Photo-Era Magazine, the American Journal of Photography, 1911

Nebraska History Magazine, 1929 Photo-era Magazine Juan C. Abel, Thomas Harrison Cummings, Wilfred A. French, A. H. Beardsley, 1911 A History of Photography in Canada, Volume 1 Martha Langford, 2025-08-22 From early reports of the invention to its wide application during World War I the idea of photography created anticipation and participation in the modern world The first volume of A History of Photography in Canada captures this phenomenon by looking at hundreds of photographs generated in and about Canada in the making and by listening to the chords they struck in the collective imagination Emphasizing technological readiness and cultural eagerness for the medium Martha Langford shows how photography served ideals of progress and improvement as Canada's settler society looked to master the world by seizing its visible traces The imposition of these programs on Indigenous Peoples and indentured labourers is confronted throughout this volume which offers both narratives and counternarratives of subjectification Reproducing images of people places events and objects from the unceded territories of the First Nations Inuit and Métis from British North America and from the Dominion of Canada and the Dominion of Newfoundland Langford asks where and when photographs were taken why and by whom How did the making and preservation of a photograph alter the circumstances in which it was produced and how did this affect individual and collective consciousness Alongside accomplished portraits landscapes still lifes and their vernacular counterparts the book draws glimmers of photographic experience from treatises and doggerel official reports and personal diaries newspapers magazines letters and travelogues Anticipation to Participation chronicles eight decades of reinvention and repurposing from a wondrous discovery to the wide adoption of a basic tool for knowledge gathering artmaking and journaling Langford's sweeping narrative rewrites the history of photography from the bottom up
