

Autobiographical Essay: Example

Topic: pet, touchdown, Disneyland, fishing

(background) I jumped out of my bed; my wonderful grandmother was coming for a visit, but I didn't know why. What I did know was that during the course of my first five years, whenever Grandma came to visit, (hint) something wonderful was going to happen.

(ss)When she walked through the front door, I jumped into her arms. She smelled like cinnamon. Her hair was bright red. When she laughed, I wanted to bottle the joy she exuded. In a very sneaky manner (she knew I liked secrets) she whispered that we were going to take a very special trip to the Magic Kingdom (of course every child of my generation knew that the Magic kingdom meant Disneyland) I could not contain my joy. I jumped from her arms and started running around the room yelling "Disneyland! Disneyland! Disneyland."

The trip

Above all, to improve the quality of this textbook, criticisms and suggestions for better editions are highly appreciated. University Library of Autobiography, 1918 Encyclopedia of Life Writing Margaretta Jolly, 2013-12-04 First published in 2001. This is the first substantial reference work in English on the various forms that constitute life writing. As this term suggests, the Encyclopedia explores not only autobiography and biography proper but also letters, diaries, memoirs, family histories, case histories, and other ways in which individual lives have been recorded and structured. It includes entries on genres and subgenres, national and regional traditions from around the world, and important autobiographical writers as well as articles on related areas such as oral history, anthropology, testimonies, and the representation of life stories in non-verbal art forms. "Biography, Identity and the Modern Interior" Penny Sparke, 2017-07-05 Through a series of case studies from the mid-eighteenth century to the start of the twenty-first, this collection of essays considers the historical insights that ethno-autobiographical investigations into the lives of individuals, groups, and interiors can offer design and architectural historians. Established scholars and emerging researchers shed light on the methodological issues that arise from the use of these sources to explore the history of the interior as a site in which everyday life is experienced and performed, and the ways in which contemporary architects and interior designers draw on personal and collective histories in their practice. Historians and theorists working within a range of disciplinary contexts and historiographical traditions are turning to biography as a means of exploring and accounting for social, cultural, and material change, and this volume reflects that turn, representing the fields of architectural and design history, social history, literary history, creative writing, and design practice. Topics include masters and servants in eighteenth-century English kitchens, the lost interiors of Oscar Wilde's House Beautiful, Elsa Schiaparelli's Surrealist spaces, Jean Genet's outlaws, and the interiors of marginality, and architect Lina Bo Bardi's Glass House, São Paulo, Brazil. Autobiographical Comics Andrew J. Kunka, 2017-11-02 A complete guide to the history, form, and contexts of the genre Autobiographical Comics helps readers explore the increasingly popular genre of graphic life writing In an accessible and easy to navigate format the book covers such topics as The history and rise of autobiographical comics Cultural contexts Key texts including Maus Robert Crumb Persepolis Fun Home and American Splendor Important theoretical and critical approaches to autobiographical comics Autobiographical Comics includes a glossary of crucial critical terms annotated guides to further reading and online resources and discussion questions to help students and readers develop their understanding of the genre and pursue independent study

American Autobiography Paul John Eakin, 1991 The first four essays review the major historical periods of American autobiography placing the classic texts of American autobiographical literature from Captain John Smith to Malcolm X in the illuminating context of lesser known contemporary narratives Daniel B Shea writes on colonial America Lawrence Buell on the American Renaissance Susanna Egan on the years after the Civil War and Albert E Stone on the twentieth century The second part of American Autobiography shows the diversity of voices forms audiences and modes of identity in the literature of American autobiography Provocative essays by William Boelhower and Sau Ling Cynthia Wong on immigrant autobiography discuss the changes in the sense of self that occur when strangers come to a strange land Arnold Krupat writes about how American Indians conceptualize the self and about the relationship between oral and written discourse William L Andrews evaluates the strong body of critical theory that has grown up around African American autobiography showing how both the genre and its criticism have responded to contemporary historical pressures Carol Holly explores the model of personal identity that underlies nineteenth century women s autobiographies and Blanche Gelfant examines the narrative and political strategies of Emma Goldman s autobiography especially her use of popular romance and melodrama The last essay offers a more personal perspective on contemporary autobiography a dialogue between Robert and Jane Coles about how they developed their method of eliciting first person oral narratives for their famous Children of Crisis and Women of Crisis series These essays raise theoretical issues that are examined in Paul John Eakin s incisive introduction How do we define a literary genre of protean shape and perplexing cultural multiplicity How do we approach the special problems created by documents that are both historical and literary texts ones that pose difficult questions about truth and representation Most important how is the canon of American autobiography to be constructed and how is its history to be written Tracing that critical history Eakin explains how changing ideas about the mainstream and the marginal have revitalized our retrospective view of American autobiography and opened up new and exciting prospects for today s reader

A Poetics of Arabic Autobiography Ariel M. Sheehrit, 2020-02-27 This book examines the poetics of autobiographical masterpieces written in Arabic by Leila Abouzeid Hanan al Shaykh Samuel Shimon Abd al Rahman Munif Salim Barakat Mohamed Choukri and Hanna Abu Hanna These literary works articulate the life story of each author in ways that undermine the expectation that the self the auto of autobiography would be the dominant narrative focus Although every autobiography naturally includes and relates to others to one degree or another

these autobiographies tend to foreground other characters voices places and texts to the extent that at times it appears as though the autobiographical subject has dropped out of sight even to the point of raising the question is this an autobiography These are indeed autobiographies Sheetrit argues albeit articulating the story of the self in unconventional ways Sheetrit offers in depth literary studies that expose each text s distinct strategy for life narrative Crucial to this book s approach is the innovative theoretical foundation of relational autobiography that reveals the grounding of the self within the collective not as symbolic of it This framework exposes the intersection of the story of the autobiographical subject with the stories of others and the tensions between personal and communal discourse Relational strategies for self representation expose a movement between two seemingly opposing desires the desire to separate and dissociate from others and the desire to engage and integrate within a particular relationship community culture or milieu This interplay between disentangling and conscious entangling constitutes the leitmotif that unites the studies in this book

A Pedagogist's Memoir Grant Rodwell, 2025-10-07 Opportunities to write our memoirs are many and varied To meet emerging demands the memoir genre continually is evolving and it is possible for the memoirist to shape the memoirs with varying themes time and settings to be brought to bear on school education at a senior level and for a range of teacher development programs Thus the developing importance of an accompanying exegesis For better or for worse childhoods shape adult relationships and attachment styles profoundly shaping who we are as teachers teaching styles and generally the things we consider important and not so important The shape of our childhood and adolescence has a profound impact on how relationships are formed in adulthood It can affect our ability to trust be vulnerable and create productive bonds both at school and college and professionally and also our general levels of motivation Through the aforementioned theme and subthemes my memoirs here reveal how childhood struggle has shaped my approach to teaching and my academic career from an unskilled labourer from the country working class in the timber industry deprived of a high school education and recruited into the workforce at 15 years of age to a senior academic in one of Australia s G8 universities holding five PhDs With strong historical backgrounding a special appeal of this book is its drive to place childhood and adolescent events contained in the memoirs in a wider historical context looking to transnational movements such as discussions on anachronisms and eugenics In so doing the exegesis a fresh and exciting innovation is in harmony with the memoirs The memoir is so refashioned as a pedagogical tool
