

What this report tells you: This report tells you the strengths and areas of need for each of your students in Reading, based on the Diagnostic Assessment. Use this report to give you a comprehensive look at a student's performance on the Diagnostic Assessment and to assess where you should go from here. The Reading and Math versions of this report are identical except for the subject-specific content information.

Intended use(s): For planning instruction/growth monitoring

When to use it: When first planning instruction after an administration of the Diagnostic Assessment

1 Overall Placement: Grade-level placement based on results from selected Diagnostic Assessment. After each administration of the Diagnostic Assessment, results will automatically appear here. Up to four administrations of the test will appear.

2 Student's Chronological Grade Level: This green bar shows the range of scores that would typically be seen for a student to be on grade level.

Click the "Print/Save" button to print or save a PDF version of any report.

3 Standard Error: All tests have some margin of error. This tells you what the margin of error is for this student's score. A smaller number indicates a higher degree of certainty that the scale score is accurate. For example, ± 13 indicates that the student's performance could be as much as 10 points higher or lower than what is reported. When the standard error is high (e.g., greater than 15), this suggests that a student may have clicked through some of the answers or rushed through the Diagnostic.

4 Placement and Scale Score by Domain: This shows the grade-level placement your student was placed at for each subject domain as well as the corresponding scale score.

5 Developmental Analysis: This section gives you more insight into the domain placement levels. It can help you to make decisions about instruction for a particular student since it highlights the most important areas of need.

6 Test Duration Alert: You may see a symbol like this  when reviewing an individual student's overall performance. This indicates that the student may have rushed through the test. Click the icon for more information. If you see this alert icon and the student's test results seem abnormal, you may want to readminister the test.

TIPS

- Use this report when you need detailed information on particular students.
- Use this report with the Class Profile report and Instructional Grouping Profile report when making instructional decisions.
